Fee Shocks Council: Compromise Sought

A motion picture company, the biggest brewery in Texas, and the immensely profitable Hughes Tool Co., at Houston, the "mother lode" of his vast fortune.

HE DISREGARDED a committee subpoena issued last Friday ordering his "immediate" appearance, and delayed his arrival in Washington until this morning. He flew his personal plane from Los Angeles.

Hughes began his testimony amid scenes of wild confusion virtually unprecedented in congressional history.

Appearing 15 minutes late, Hughes on his arrival at the senate caucus room touched off such an uproar that the hearing was further delayed while attaches sought to restore order.

Photographers climbed over chairs and tables in order to get "better" pictures of the young multi-millionaire and the crowd broke into cheers as the lanky Hughes stalked toward the stand.

Hughes, usually of dour mien, grinned as he elbowed his way through the jam of humanity.

Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich., finally succeeded in questioning Hughes, who immediately asked that the Kleig lights be extinguished.

In deference to the plane builder's deafness, Ferguson asked his questions loudly and slowly.

FERGUSON KEPT his threat to make Hughes "cool his heels" today while the committee went on with other witnesses.

The plane-builder's public relations man, John W. Meyer, went back under the Kleig lights this morning.

Thomas A. Slack, Hughes' attorney, informed the committee: "Pursuant to your request, Mr. Hughes is here and ready and anxious to testify at the convenience of the committee."

He added that when he said "here" he meant that Hughes was in Washington not in the hearing room.

Hughes arrived at the capital at 6:41 a. m. (EST) after a one-stop flight from his Culver City, Calif., airport.

Ferguson said that Slack's announcement was "the first official news we had that Hughes was here."

THE SENATOR added: "we will proceed with the morning session, which will be shorter than usual, and then recess for the afternoon session with Hughes to be the first witness."

With Hughes' appearance delayed until afternoon, Meyer continued the tale of his check-paying wartime career. Without Elliott Roosevelt in the cast, the overflow audience found the proceedings dull. The pudgy entertainment specialist was bored, too.

Meyer declared: "The way I keep my accounts was satisfactory to Mr. Hughes and I never expected to have to explain them to anybody else."

Meyer flared up again over the mention of $50 and $100 gifts to girls. He said:

"When I told you in secret session that I gave somebody a present for dining with me, no other inference was ever made."

Meyer declared under questioning by Ferguson, that $97,000 of the $164,000 he spent on "public relations" was used on just one customer—the United States government.

He admitted the $97,000 was used to entertain army officers, including Elliott Roosevelt and public officials in connection with the Hughes "Hercules" flying boat and the F-11 photo-reconnaissance plane.

CORN SOARS TO SECOND RECORD WITHIN WEEK

CHICAGO, Aug. 6—An all-time record high for corn was established in Chicago today as weather news pushed the September future to $2.24 3/4 a bushel.

The price was 5 1/2 cents above yesterday's closing level.

Other corn futures skyrocketed to new seasonal peaks. Wheat and oats future rose with corn, but gains were not as large.

The previous high for corn was $2.22 1/2, on Monday of this week. Today's peak was the highest in the 99-year history of the Chicago board of trade.

forcement of such an ordinance would work a hardship on many parking and "storage" of motor vehicles on Circleville streets for more than 24 successive hours was enacted into law after its third and final reading and over the negative vote of Councilman Horn. The ordinance provides a penalty of not less than $5 or more than $25 for each offense. The city solicitor was instructed several weeks ago to draft legislation after a delegation of property owners on South Pickaway street between East Franklin and East Mound streets had voiced to council their objections to the use of the street by a nearby garage for the storage and repair of autos.

PRECEDING the roll-call on passage of the legislation Councilman Ray Anderson opposed the 24-hour provision and this opposition was also voiced by Councilman Horn. On the roll-call, however, Councilman Anderson voted for the ordinance. Councilman Horn claimed en-

Circleville residents who have no garage and are therefore compelled to park their cars in front of their homes. He suggested the solicitor revamp the ordinance and aim it at "junk" cars and against use of streets for a workshop. During the three-way tie which then developed among Solicitor Gerhardt and Councilmen Anderson and Horn it was declared by Solicitor Gerhardt that it is "impossible to define a junk auto" in an ordinance.

"I don't believe in cutting the throats of 6,000 Circleville people in order to stop one garage operator", Councilman Horn asserted.

Councilman Crites urged passage of the ordinance as already written. Councilman Cook commented that it was "unlikely" that there would be prosecution of "a man who parks his car in front of his home for more than 24 hours".

WHEN A squabble developed over passage of an ordinance after its third and final reading, to expend $250 for purchase and installation of a traffic light at South Court and Walnut streets, and when the roll-call ended in a 3 to 3 tie vote on the legislation, John C. Goeller, as council president, stepped into the breach, cast the deciding vote in the affirmative, and the ordinance was passed. Councilmen Crites, Cook and Eshelman voted against the legislation. Those who voted in favor included Councilmen Adkins, Anderson and Horn. During the discussion preceding the roll-call Councilman Crites said a traffic light at that location would be a "nuisance". Voicing opposition to traffic lights to curb speeders Councilman Cook said: "If the police fill the jail with speeders for three successive nights the Court street situation will alleviate itself".

OTHER ORDINANCES, which were passed by unanimous vote on their final readings, (1) authorized the safety director to expend $250 for a 2500-watt emergency lighting unit for the fire department after it was explained that this portable outfit already has been bought by Fire Chief Talmer Wise and that the money is to reimburse him, (2) appropriated $2,200 from the general fund for operation of the water department by the board of public utilities including $500 for new meters and $350 for salaries for utilities board members, (3) appropriated $500 to pay the salary of the Ted Lewis Park keeper, (4) appropriated $3,000 for the purchase of needed supplies for Berger hospital, (5) authorized overtime pay for employees a Berger hospital, including $1 an hour to the superintendent, nurses, and technicians, and 50 cents an hour for cooks and nurses aides, (6) appropriated $300 for extension of the First avenue sanitary sewer, and (7) appropriated $450 for the purchase of chairs and linoleum and installation of a shower bath in the fire station.

Mayor Ben H. Gordon's report for July, approved by council, listed fines, $30; licenses, $4, and bonds $160.

Financial report of the city, submitted by Councilman Crites as chairman of the finance committee and approved unanimously, listed: General fund, receipts $1,232,333, expenditures $1,235,09, balance $12,318.59; sewage disposal, receipts $3,597.98, expenditures $1,591.06, balance $3,657.78; Library fund, receipts $103.87, expenditures $1,149.54, balance $7,567.20; auto street repair, receipts $7,307.50, expenditures $3,477.94, balance $5,542.74; gasoline tax fund, receipts $2,349.59, expenditures $887.74, balance $1,461.85; hospital fund, receipts $3,092.43, expenditures $4,561.02, balance $1,668.59; and waterworks fund, receipts $6,254.41, expenditures $10,469.13, balance $20,067.93. # BRITAIN PINS SURVIVAL HOPE ON AUSTERITY

lee—as expected—proposed the following:

1—Keener and further development of British resources, principally for export.

2—A tight checkrein on all non-essentials for home consumption.

3—An increase in total production output.

4—A speed-up in plans for expansion of production throughout the colonial empire.

Attlee said the British themselves were responsible for some of their plight. But he contended it was due mainly to "adverse factors outside our control."

The prime minister said he was setting "new and definite targets" for basic industries, particularly coal.

FROM SEPTEMBER to April, coal will be set at a minimum of four million deep-mined tons weekly, while steel is set at 12 1/2 million tons for 1947 and 14 million tons in 1948.

In addition, Attlee announced plans for a drastic overhauling of the transport industry.

The prime minister announced an agricultural drive aimed to produce 400 million dollars worth of food annually by 1951 or 1952—a 20 per cent increase that will involve employment of an additional 100 thousand workers.

Attlee admitted that the 1947 export target will not be reached. Nevertheless he said there would be a tremendous export drive for 1948 designed to raise 1938 export figures by 140 per cent in the first six months and 160 per cent in the second half of the year.

He said:

"This means hardship and some sacrifice of individual liberty but it is a necessary and not a wanton act of the government."

Attlee warned employers that wherever there is inefficiency or lack of cooperation "the government will not hesitate to take effective action."

Specific curtailments included: Remittances on foreign films to be limited to 25 per cent of their earnings in Britain.

Pleasure gasoline allowance is cut one-third and essential allowances 10 per cent.

Foreign travel allowance is reduced from 300 dollars annually to $120 for a 14-month period beginning Oct. 1.

cury would resume its upward trend by Saturday.

"I'M NOT EXPECTING any sharp fall in temperatures," Andrus said, "but compared with current ones, even the temporary relief should be welcomed."

Eleven straight days with little or no rain was beginning to concern farmers over the state. While the heat has promoted the growth of Ohio's belated corn crop, the burning sun also was searing the stalks in some areas.

Compared with other parts of the sun-baked nation, Ohio was somewhat fortunate.

YESTERDAY THE mercury hit 102 degrees at Marquette, Mich., and it was 100 at Chicago for the second day in a row. For the last three days at St. Louis the high temperatures ranged between 102-103 degrees.

High and low temperatures and rainfall amounts in inches, respectively, at various points for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a. m. today were:

Akron 92-69; Chesapeake 92-67; 17; Cincinnati 97-72; Cleveland 94-72; Columbus 96-69; Dayton 95-71; East Liverpool 89-62; Findlay 99-70; Hayesville 92-68; Parkersburg, W. Va., 94-69; Perry 91-72; Toledo 97-71; Wilmington 87-72; Youngstown 91-65, and Zanesville 93-66.

U. S. TO STAND FOR SHOWDOWN ON THURANSKY

Hungary To Be Reminded Country Still At War Because Of Soviet

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 — The United States today is determined to make a showdown of the incident involving the arrest of an American business man by Hungarian police on charges of speaking critically of the Communist-dominated Hungarian regime.

The incident, reading more like a movie Balkan thriller than a chapter on striped-pants diplomacy, revolves around Stephen Thuransky, Columbus, Ohio, representative in Budapest of the International Harvester Company.

(Thuransky is widely known in Circleville and vicinity, at one time being active in the policy racket and records show he was fined on numerous occasions for law violation in the city.)

HE WAS ARRESTED and jailed for issuing "anti-democratic utterances" — actually criticizing the Hungarian regime — on the streets of Balassagyarmat, a small border village last Friday night.

His release, obtained, after formal procedures failed, when a lesser diplomat, Harrison Lewis, secretary of the legation in Budapest, took him from under the noses of Hungarian police and sped him to sanctuary in the legation.

The incident itself was not of major consequence, despite the daring with which Thuransky was released. But it forced an issue which the state department plans to push to the limit.

IN THE END the United States' course of action is expected to have these effects:

1. Remind the Communist-dominated regime in Hungary that, despite United States ratification of the Hungarian peace treaty, the country is still not at peace and subject to the strict armistice terms imposed by the victors.

2. Make the Hungarian people conscious of the fact that it's the fault of the Soviet Union, which supports the present regime, that the peace treaty is not yet in force and Hungary is still an occupied enemy state. Until Russia ratifies the treaty, it is inoperative.

3. ESTABLISH THE United States' determination that the freedoms assured liberated peoples in Europe during the war are to be maintained despite the imposition of totalitarian regimes from the outside.

Meanwhile, the United States planned to stand its ground in demanding an apology from the Hungarian government, assurances against a repetition of the incident and the return of any property that may have been taken from Thuransky.

Reports to the state department on the incident gave this account:

Thuransky, after his arrest was brought to Budapest and lodged in jail. Lewis attempted to interview him Saturday at the jail. Officials gave him the run-around by being "uncooperative to the extreme and in some cases inadmissibly insolent."

On one visit to the jail Lewis encountered Mrs. Thuransky and took her with him in the legation car in search of an unidentified Hungarian official.

UNABLE TO find him, they returned to the jail and Lewis and the chauffeur entered. Presently they heard the screams of Mrs. Thuransky and hurried outside. Her husband lay in the legation car, his feet protruding from the door. A crowd of Hungarian civilians and police stood about.

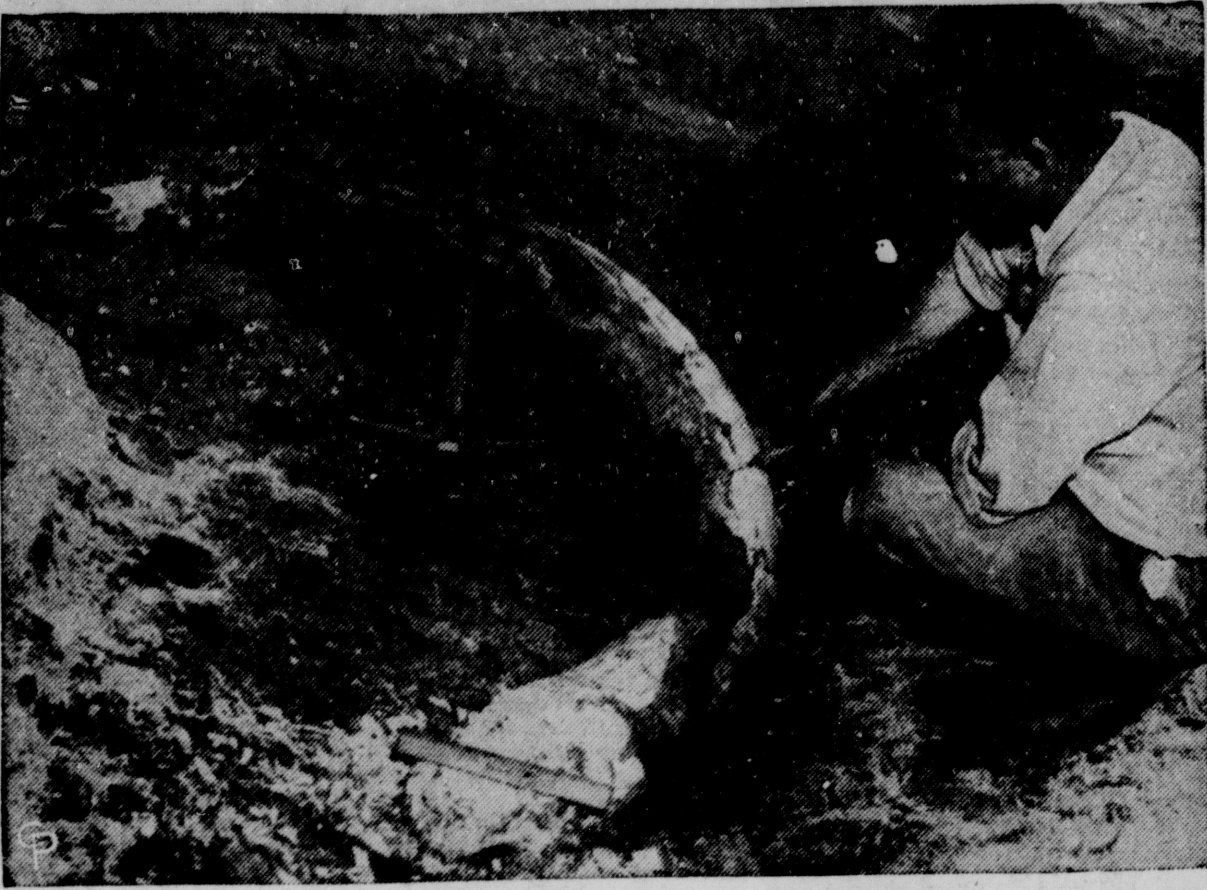

Lewis and Mrs. Thuransky and the chauffeur hopped into the car and sped to the legation. Later the Thuransky's two daughters were taken from their home and lodged also in the legation.

Thuransky and his family are reported to be returning to the United States.

Council Again Hears From Citizens About Fire Alarm System

One Circleville fire alarm box was not cleaned for so long that it contained spider and cobwebs.

This declaration was made to the city council Tuesday night by Wilson R. "Pete" Clark, head of the citizens committee which waged a campaign recently for restoration of the alarm system after it had been ordered abandoned by the council.

CLARK AROSE among the spectators and, after reminding the council that at its July 15 meeting the members rescinded their May 20 action and voted to expend up to $2,500 to repair and re-install the 25-box alarm system, asked when the work is to be done.

City Solicitor George Gerhardt said that it was necessary to advertise for competitive bids on the work because the cost would exceed $500 and that the advertising of bids is required by state law.

Mr. Clark then wished to know why the work had not been given to James P. Moffitt and Leonard S. Lytle, local electricians who had cooperated with the citizens' committee. The city solicitor said they were entitled to enter their bids. It was disclosed that no bids had as yet been received and that the opening of bids has been scheduled for Saturday.

Councilman George L. Crites arose and, reiterating his frequently repeated arguments against fire alarm systems, told the council: "After the alarm boxes are re-installed you had better hunt for a telephone in case your house catches fire."

CLARK THEN said: "Box No. 16 had not been cleaned for so long that it had spider and cobwebs in it." Box No. 16 is located at Court and York streets.

The alarm boxes should be cleaned and inspected Mr. Clark asserted, regularly, and

CONTOUR PLANTING

TRAVELERS through hilly farm districts sometimes wonder at the sight of what appears to be a curving design in vegetation. Around the hill is a strip of corn or other grain, alternating with a strip of alfalfa or similar grass crop.

These farmers are following an approved method of erosion control which has proved effective in stopping loss of topsoil. The rainfall which runs down the corn rows is stopped and held by the grassy strips, and the valuable top-soil stays where it is. Heavy rains, long called "gully-washers", are utilized and their moisture held. No gullies are washed, and the farmer is happy.

This practical and inexpensive form of flood control is sponsored by the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, which has been teaching farmers many ways of making friends with the elements. The man dependent for his livelihood on the forces of nature must learn to go along with them. By adapting himself to their laws he turns the forces to use instead of letting them contribute to destruction.

The neat, straight furrows of our forefathers are viewed with distress and apprehension by farmers who have learned the constructive way of following natural contours of land, doing the planting around hills in curving, horizontal rows which hold the water and the soil instead of in the vertical rows which let the rain wash the soil away. Loss of topsoil by flood and erosion is one of the most serious dangers now confronting the nation. It needs to be taken seriously, now, before it is too late.

LANGUAGES

THE AMERICAN people in general have long been disposed to ignore foreign languages, regarding their own as adequate for all purposes. It has been the case usually even among immigrants to this country, who were inclined to regard using their own language as rather unpatriotic. Their children usually refused to use it. As a result of such a trend, interest in and knowledge of foreign languages faded accordingly.

In recent years, however, intelligent people have begun to hold European languages in more respect, and students and business men have begun to appreciate their loss. This tendency naturally grows with the spread of world travel and business. The two great languages, French and English, may still be leading the world for many decades. But young people who have the opportunity to learn German and Russian should by all means do so. One reason why it is so hard to understand the Russians, for example, is that we never know what they are talking about. The more we know about how the people think, reads, talks, the better able we are to know what they are up to. Languages are needed for business, for friendship and for peace.

ASSIGNMENT: AMERICA

By Kenneth L. Dixon

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—Two years ago today, one lone B-29 swept in silvered solitude through Japanese skies until at last it neared a little-known city—but a city doomed to become as famous a date in history as Gettysburg or Pearl Harbor.

So high that even with powerful field glasses it looked like a slim cigar to groundlings down below, the plane slipped in over the city's heart. Suddenly a rent slit its silver belly, and out of that yawning gap a tiny pellet popped.

Drifting slowly downward, the shiny pellet seemed almost to hang suspended in the sky. Then, as the mighty messenger which brought it wheeled sharply and headed homeward with all four engines thundering at full throttle, a minute mechanism within the falling missile began to tick away the last seconds of the lives of countless thousands down below.

What happened after that, as the fleeing airman looked back almost as fearfully as Lot's wife, is grim and undeniable history.

For two years ago today was Hiroshima.

Eight days after that first atom bomb was dropped, destroying an entire city, the war ended. But even the frantic, almost hysterical, wave of celebration which swept the world carried whitecaps of warning, and even the racketing revelry failed to drown out the undertones of fear and foreboding.

For, by that long-considered act which ended the war, the world in general and America in particular—for the time being—was charged with the stewardship of a scientific monstrosity capable of destroying all mankind.

How well have we worn that mantle of responsibility since? The record is not reassuring. The last two years contain only nine events of minor importance concerning the atom. They are:

Nov. 15, 1945—Declaration of control of atomic energy issued by President Truman, British Prime Minister Attlee and Canadian Prime Minister MacKenzie King.

Jan. 24, 1946—General assembly of the United Nations created the United Nations atomic energy commission.

March 28, 1946—State department released first draft on atomic control—the Acheson-Lilienthal report.

June 14, 1946—First meeting of the United Nations atomic energy commission held. Bernard Baruch presented the American proposals for world control of atomic energy.

July 1 and July 25, 1946—Atom bomb tests held at Bikini. (And whether these slowed or sped the day of humanity's destruction still remains to be seen.)

July 27, 1946—America's domestic atomic energy act became law. (And several horses were stolen before this barn was locked.)

Oct. 2, 1946—United Nations atomic energy commission agreed unanimously that world control was technically feasible. (But mark that word "technically"—for the veto moth still flirts with the atom flame.)

Nov. 1, 1946—United States atomic energy commission appointments announced.

April 9, 1947—United States atomic energy commission appointments confirmed. The obvious lapse of five months between those last two dates is perhaps the most damning proof of how America has refused to recognize and accept its responsibility. Despite the grim issues involved, congress

DIET AND HEALTH

Many Different Factors Are Responsible for Over-Eating

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

HOW I wish I could convince every man and woman in this country that overweight shortens life! If I could, I could thereby save thousands from an untimely death and not only that, they would have beauty, grace, activity and zest such as they have never known before.

Believe it or not, this is one of the things about which all medical authorities agree. There is not a dissenting voice. Figures, too, are eloquent in telling the story. They show without any possibility of contradiction that too much fat, larding the body and internal organs, may be responsible for the earlier development of heart, blood vessel and kidney disease, diabetes and even cancer.

Gland Disturbance

Many people like to think that their overweight is due to a disturbance in the glands of internal secretion such as a lack of secretion from the thyroid gland in the neck or from the pituitary gland at the base of the brain. This is sometimes true, but only very rarely. Thus, the sooner we realize that overweight in most cases is the result of eating more food than is used up by bodily activity, the sooner we will be able to do something about reducing safely and healthfully.

Just the same, it is well to realize that though glandular disturbances are seldom responsible for our overweight, certain mental factors are, because they influence us to eat too much. Once we understand what they are, we have a better chance to control them.

Desire for Food

Strangely enough, anything which increases the emotion of fear or anxiety or the nervous reaction of being on edge or irritable will further the desire for food. For example, Dr. S. Charles Freed of San Francisco, California, questioned 500 patients who were under treatment for overweight. He asked them, "When you are nervous or worried do you eat more or less?" Three hundred and seventy answered that they either ate larger meals or ate more frequently. Most of the remainder answered that they did not eat more when worried or nervous but they did eat more when they were idle, bored or tired. There are a number of factors, then, which influence overeating. The child who is brought up in a family where it is common to have large, rich meals will imitate those around him and eat an excessive amount of food.

When there is a lack of interest or distractions, a person may try to escape from his monotonous life by overeating.

Temptation to Eat

Persons employed in restaurants, candy shops and food stores are constantly influenced to eat by the mere presence of the food.

Persons confined to bed may continue with their usual food habits and thus take more food than they require.

Thus, in the treatment of overweight it is important that all of these various factors be given consideration. An attempt must be made to rid a person of his anxieties and emotional stress. Nevertheless, dieting remains the most important part of the reducing program.

Dr. Freed recommends a diet of from 800 to 1100 calories. Of course, the diet should be well-balanced supplying all of the necessary food parts. I have outlined such a diet which I will be glad to send free to all those who desire it if they will send a large self-addressed envelope, stamped with 6c postage. Names will not be used.

In order to suppress the appetite a drug known as amphetamine sulfate may be used but, of course, only under the direction of a physician.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

R. M.: I have a boy five years of age. He gets colds frequently. He breathes heavy and has difficulty getting his breath. Do you think he has bronchitis?

Answer: No. The symptoms which you describe are much like those of asthma, a condition in which there are attacks of noisy breathing, shortness of breath, and coughing.

It is important that the child be examined by a physician to determine if the symptoms are due to asthma so that treatment for it can be started.

Boy Scouts of Circleville and Pickaway county will swing into action Friday and Saturday in an effort to boost the pile of old phonograph records, being collected by Howard Hall post, American Legion.

Of all the street lights in Circleville, and there are about 180 of them, the one in front of the residence of Charles T. Gilmore, South Court street, local manager of the Electric company, refused to burn.

Circleville residents put on their suit coats and sweaters when the temperature dropped to 52 degrees today.

TEN YEARS AGO

Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Stewart returned to their home on West Mound street, after spending a month at Bayview, Michigan.

Picnic of the Elks club, held at David S. Dunlap's Pickaway township farm was the largest attended in the last 5 years. Fried chicken, corn on the cob and all the trimmings were served.

Despite the light rain over 1,000 persons attended the annual Clarksburg field day celebration in the E. L. Hurst grove.

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE

LADY ANGKATELL dropped into a chair and smiled at the two men. She said conversationally: "You know, I really do think that was very charming of Gudgeon. Quite feudal, if you know what I mean. Yes, feudal is the right word."

Grange said stiffly: "Am I to understand, Lady Angkatell, that you yourself have some further knowledge about the matter of the gun?"

"Of course. Gudgeon didn't find it in the hall at all. He found it when he took the eggs out."

"The eggs?" Inspector Grange stared at her.

"Out of the basket," said Lady Angkatell.

She seemed to think that everything was now quite clear. Sir Henry said gently: "You must tell us a little more, my dear. Inspector Grange and I are still at sea."

"Oh!" Lady Grange set herself to be explicit. "The pistol you see was in the basket, under the eggs."

"What basket, and what eggs, Lady Angkatell?"

"The basket I took down to the farm. The pistol was in it, and then I put the eggs in on top of the pistol and forgot all about it. And when we found poor John Christow dead by the pool, it was such a shock I let go of the basket and Gudgeon just caught it in time (because of the eggs, I mean. If I'd dropped it they would have been broken), and he brought it back to the house. And later I asked him about writing the date on the eggs—a thing I always do—otherwise one eats the fresher eggs sometimes before the older ones—and he said all that had been attended to—and now that I remember, he was rather emphatic about it. And that is what I mean by being feudal. He found the pistol and put it back in here—I suppose really because there were police in the house. Servants are always so worried by police, I find. Very nice and loyal—but also quite stupid, because, of course, Inspector, it's the truth you want to hear, isn't it?"

And Lady Angkatell finished up by giving the Inspector a beaming smile.

"The truth is what I mean to get," said Grange rather grimly. Lady Angkatell sighed.

"It all seems such a fuss, doesn't it?" she said. "I mean, all this hounding people down. I don't suppose whoever it was that shot John Christow really meant to shoot him—not seriously, I mean. It was Gerdie, I'm sure she didn't. In fact, I'm really surprised that she didn't miss—it's the sort of thing that one would expect of Gerdie. And she's really a very nice, kind creature. And if you go and put her in prison and hang her, what on earth is going to happen to the children? If she did shoot John, she's probably dreadfully sorry about it now. It's bad enough for children to have a father who's been murdered—but it will make it infinitely worse for them to have their mother hanged for it. Sometimes I don't think you policemen think of these things."

"We are not contemplating arresting anyone at present, Lady Angkatell."

"Well, that's sensible at any rate. But I have thought all along, Inspector Grange, that you were a very sensible sort of man."

Inspector Grange spoke fiercely and brusquely, feeling like a man who brushes away fine spiders' webs which are impairing his vision.

"Did you load the pistol?" He had hoped to startle her—perhaps even to frighten her a little, but Lady Angkatell only continued to smile.

Inspector Grange blinked a little. He could not help it, but he came firmly to the point at issue. "As you said just now, Lady Angkatell, it's the truth I want to get at. You took the pistol from here—what gun was it, by the way?"

Lady Angkatell nodded her head toward the shelf by the mantelpiece. "The second from the end. The Mauser 25." Something in the crisp, technical way she spoke jarred on Grange. He had not, somehow, expected Lady Angkatell, whom up to now he had labeled in his own mind as "vague" and "just a bit batty," to describe a firearm with such technical precision.

"You took the pistol from here and put it in your basket. Why?"

"I knew you'd ask that," said Lady Angkatell. Her tone, unexpectedly, was almost triumphant. "And, of course, there must be some reason. Don't you think so, Henry?" She turned to her husband. "Don't you think I must have a reason for taking a pistol out of that morning?"

"I should certainly have thought so, my dear," said Sir Henry stiffly. "One does things, you know, Lady Angkatell, gazing thoughtfully in front of her, "and then one doesn't remember why one has done them. But I think, you know, Inspector, that there always is a reason if one can only get at it. I must have had some idea in my head when I put the Mauser into my egg basket."

She appealed to him. "What do you think it can have been?"

Grange stared at her. She displayed no embarrassment—just a childlike eagerness. It beat him. He had never yet met anyone like Lady Angkatell and just for the moment he didn't know what to do about it.

"My wife," said Sir Henry, "is extremely absentminded, Inspector. He did not say it very nicely."

"Why do you think I took that pistol?" Lady Angkatell asked him confidentially.

"I have no idea, Lady Angkatell."

"I came in here," mused Lady Angkatell. "I had been talking to Simmons about the pillow cases—and I dimly remember crossing over to the fireplace—and thinking we must get a new poker—the curate, not the rector—"

Inspector Grange stared. He felt his head going around. "And I remember picking up the Mauser—it was a nice handy little gun, I've always liked it—and dropping it into the basket—I'd just got the basket from the flower room. But there were so many things in my head—Simmons, you know, and the birdseed in the Michaelmas daisies—and hoping Mrs. Medway would make a really rich daisy in his shirt—"

"A daisy in his shirt?" Inspector Grange had to break in.

"Chocolate, you know, and eggs—and then covered with whipped cream. Just the sort of sweet a foreigner would like for lunch."

Inspector Grange spoke fiercely and brusquely, feeling like a man who brushes away fine spiders' webs which are impairing his vision.

"Did you load the pistol?" He had hoped to startle her—perhaps even to frighten her a little, but Lady Angkatell only continued to smile.

Zwicker Grove Setting Meeting And Picnic

First EUB Church Annual Picnic Sunday

Annual Sunday school and church picnic in conjunction with a meeting of the Harper Bible class of the First Evangelical United Brethren church will be held Sunday in the Zwicker Grove at the corporation limit on State highway number 188. All are asked to meet at the church at 9:15 a. m. for a check of the Sunday school enrollment and a period of morning devotion.

At 9:30 a. m. an auto caravan will leave the church with transportation provided for all. At 10 a. m. the pastor, the Rev. Carl L. Wilson, will conduct the regular morning worship in the grove.

The slated program will be followed with special music by the choir and a junior church lesson presentation. During the noon hour a picnic basket dinner will be served. Each family is asked to bring a picnic basket and individual table service. Children of the primary department and junior departments need not bring food, as the committee will provide dinner for this age group. Beverages will be furnished for all persons.

Out of door activities and a special program of recreation is slated for the afternoon, which is being arranged by appointed committee members. A special invitation has been extended to all members of the church and Sunday school to attend the day's outing.

Nu Phi Mu Sorority Meets, Plan Rummage Sale For August

Nu Phi Mu sorority members gathered Tuesday evening in the home of Miss Barbara Green, North Court street, for their regular bi-monthly meeting.

Mrs. Harold Dresbach, assistant advisor, served in the absence of Mrs. C. E. Wells, advisor, who presided for the session. Meeting opened with a prayer, followed by the ritual and salute to the flag led by Miss Sue Reichelderfer, president. Miss Donna Reid, recording-secretary, conducted roll call and read the minutes of the previous meeting. The president heard reports from various standing committee chairmen.

Plans were made for a rummage sale on August 23. Group discussed various projects for the early fall season. Miss Ruth Cunningham explained the main activities of the service committee.

Miss Green served refreshments during an informal social hour. Group adjourned following the closing ritual service.

More than 2,000,000 persons have registered at the summit house atop of Pike's Peak, Colorado. They have made the ascent during summer seasons on foot, by burro, in automobiles and by cog-road train.

Christian Home society members of the Christ Lutheran church are scheduled to gather Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar List, Monroe township.

Census figures reveal that more women marry at the age of 23 than any other age. A greater number of men marry at 26 or 27.

Out Of Town Guests At Dinner Party In Pickaway Arms

Mrs. Robert D. Bastow, New York, New York, and Miss Gladys Smith, Winter Park, Florida, were guests of honor Tuesday evening, at a dinner party given by Mrs. George L. Crites, South Court street, and Miss Elizabeth Dunlap, West Franklin street.

Lavender and deep purple butterfly sprays were interspersed with pastel shades of sweet peas in a crystal bowl for a low floral arrangement in the center of the diningroom table.

Places were marked for the seven o'clock dinner at one long table in the Pickaway Arms for the two guests of honor, Mrs. Paul E. Adkins, Braeburn Farm, Jackson township, Mrs. Max Friedman, Columbus and Miss Ellyn Duffy, Cleveland.

Those from Circleville were Mrs. Joseph P. Noecker, Mrs. George VanCamp, Mrs. Howard Orr, Mrs. James I. Smith, Mrs. Emmitt L. Crist, Mrs. L. K. Athey, Mrs. Carl J. Schneider and the two hostesses.

Following dinner the guests had an informal evening in the Crites residence.

Doll Contest And Pony Rides At Brown Lawn Party

Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Brown, Circleville township, were hosts at a lawn party for their daughter, Brenda Brown, when she entertained a group of her little friends.

Mrs. Roy Huffer assisted Mrs. Brown in entertaining the small guests, who were invited to bring their dolls. There were 20 dolls at the party. In a contest the group decided that May Martin had the most attractive doll and Brenda's "Rag Anna" was the plainest.

Girls spent the afternoon playing with their dolls and taking rides on Fred Brown's pony "Pam". Refreshments were served on the lawn, followed by bubble gum.

Those at the gay affair were Carolyn Jo and Susie Metcalf, May Martin, Sonja Robinson, Carolyn and Margaret Huffer and Mary Ellen Goeller, Roy Huffer, Dr. J. E. Goeller, Mrs. Goeller, Judy and Joe Goeller and Miss Marjory Westerbarger.

MEETING SLATED

Mrs. L. E. Miller will be hostess for the regular meeting of members of the Past Presidents club of Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Friday at 7:30 p. m. in her home on Watt street.

GRANGE PLANS AUGUST PICNIC

Saltcreek Valley grange met in regular session Tuesday evening in the school building with Robert Delong, master, in the chair. Group made plans for a picnic supper in Gold Cliff park on August 22 at 6 p. m. A note of appreciation was read from Mrs. Frank Strous and an appeal for aid.

Charter was draped during the evening in memory of the late Frank Strous. Judson Beougher, Jeannette Armstrong and Phyllis Anderson were appointed to prepare a resolution of respect for the deceased brother.

Mrs. Isaac Sells, Mrs. Lloyd Whisler, Joanne Bowsher, Wayne Cryder and Maurice Jury were selected to be in charge of the program for the next meeting. Serving on the refreshment committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Judson Beougher, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hedges, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Armstrong.

Floral decorations at the meeting were furnished by Mrs. Grace Anderson, Mrs. Mary Wolfe and Mrs. Donna Beougher.

Evening's program consisted of a reading "What is Your Life Worth" by Grace Anderson; piano solo "Memory" by Joanne Bowsher; reading "Araminta Becomes a Radio Fan" by Miss Anna Pontius. Mrs. Alma Miller gave a group of riddles and Mrs. B. D. Pierce read "The Fairest Gift." Mrs. Florence Shride and Miss Gift Macklin presented a piano duet. Robert Delong read "The Good Old Days."

Mrs. Irene Filescher, Cincinnati, who is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. Isaac Sells was a guest. Refreshments were served at the close of the program by the August committee members.

Youth Fellowship Holds Meeting And Plans Hay Ride

Youth fellowship members of the Calvary Evangelical church held their monthly business meeting at the church, which opened with the group singing "Hail Him, Hail Him", and "In the Garden".

Grant Carothers read from the Scriptures as each member offered a short prayer. During the business session the group made plans for a hay ride on August 15. Refreshments were served by Doris Hill and Norma Coffland.

Those present for the evening were Doris Hill, Lorraine Pritchard, Betty Strawser, Kath Coffland, Norma Coffland, Rachel Speakman, Edna Davis, Dale Delong, Grant Carothers, Porky Delong, Merle Swank, Joan Cain and the Rev. James A. Herbst and Mrs. Herbst.

Lanman Family Has Reunion And Picnic At Gold Cliff

Annual Lanman family reunion was held at Gold Cliff park, with 47 relatives and friends present. Picnic dinner was served at the noon hour. In the afternoon the group enjoyed swimming in the pool and informal visitation.

John Lanman, president, and Emogene Newton, secretary-treasurer were elected to serve in their appointed offices for another year. Next year's reunion will be on the first Sunday in August, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Lanman.

Those present for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. John Lanman, Judson Lanman, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bell, Jane, John, and Junior Bell, Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Lanman, Marcella June and Johnny Lanman of the Circleville community.

Thurman Lanman, Mr. and Mrs. Mick Lanman, and son, Vicky, Pataskala; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Newton, Emogene, Kenneth and Leroy Newton, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Lanman, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lanman and daughter, Karen Jean and Mrs. Bell Tomlinson, Williamsport.

Mrs. Frances Chalfin, Mrs. Fred Krider, Delores McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Tomlinson, Orient; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Yeatts, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Seymour, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wharton and Marsha, Bill Wharton, Mark Coffland, Doris Kenney, Hinton Waites, Frances Tomlinson, Ann Ignatzki and Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Wise and family, Circleville.

PICNIC AT GOLD CLIFF

Girls Missionary Guild members of the First Evangelical United Brethren church had a picnic supper Tuesday evening at Gold-Cliff park. They held a brief business meeting after the evening meal, then they enjoyed the facilities of the park.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

LOCAL LOANS IN 1,236 G. I. TOTAL FOR DISTRICT

Great Majority For Homes— Few Go Into Farms Or Business Ventures

Several GI loans in Circleville and Pickaway county are included in the 1,236 loans to veterans which were approved during July it was announced Wednesday by the Cincinnati regional office of the Veterans Administration. Pickaway is one of the counties comprising the Cincinnati district. James Shea is the county's service officer for veterans.

The announcement said the GI loans okehed in July included 1,156 for homes, 34 for farms, and 46 non-realty or business loans.

It was explained that the loan guaranty division of the Cincinnati VA office, responsible for 50 central and southern Ohio counties, does not actually lend money to veterans, but "stands behind" or guarantees certain parts of loans made to veterans by private lending institutions, in accordance with VA regulations.

The Veterans Administration, Shea explained, can guarantee one-half of an approved loan on realty up to a maximum guarantee of $4,000, but the VA guarantee on non-realty loans must not exceed $2,000.

The July figure swelled to a new total of 24,609 the number of GI loans in the Cincinnati area since the inception of the law.

The appraised value of the homes, farms and businesses being purchased by veterans under the GI loan privilege amounts to $136,656,980, and the commitment of the VA in these loans totals $64,051,163.

Although repayment periods for most of the loans extend over a period of years, the announcement said, many veterans have already retired obligations with the lender, in fact to date 895 veterans have repaid loans on property or businesses which were valued at $4,025,980.

KENTUCKIANS TAKE HOT WEATHER SERIOUSLY

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 6 — They take their hot weather seriously in neighboring Ft. Thomas, Ky.

The soaring mercury was blamed today for a shotgun duel between two brothers in which both were seriously wounded.

Police reported that Lawrence Rubia, 45, arose when unable to sleep and bumped into a chair. He slammed the chair out of his way—thereby arousing the resentment of his brother, Frank, 57. Blows followed. Both went after their shotguns, and the duel followed.

TRUMAN VISIT TO RIO FOCAL INTEREST POINT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—President Truman's expected visit to Brazil today was the focal point of interest of both continents of the Western Hemisphere.

There were repeated reports from Rio de Janeiro that the President definitely will visit Brazil next month.

These developments heightened expectancy of some official announcement shortly on presidential plans regarding the long discussed state visit to this country's important South American ally and neighbor.

The white house, however, Tuesday night still withheld official comment.

The importance of a state visit by Mr. Truman to Brazil within the next month or six weeks was emphasized by the fact that the foreign secretaries of all the American Republics will gather at Rio Aug. 15 for important discussions bearing on the mutual defense of the Americas against any foreign aggression.

Secretary of State Marshall will be the official United States representative at the important gathering, which is on the level of the foreign secretaries of the various governments.

CARDS GET 14 HITS OFF BUMS TO WIN 8 TO 2

Yanks Stretch Lead To 14 Games By 8 To 5 Win Over Athletics

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The pennant-ravenous St. Louis Cardinals took their fourth chunk of Dodger pie in five days yesterday.

Today, the Brooklyn 10-game margin of five days ago is but a glittering memory, and the slumping "bums" must realize they have mislaid the winning habit. Brooklyn now leads by only six games.

On August 1, the Dodgers invaded the lair of their Chicago cousins after a brilliant three-game sweep of the Cardinal series. Three days later, the once-frisky league leaders stole quietly and sorrowfully from the Windy City's rude precincts.

The Cubs not only smashed a 13-game winning streak, but likewise conquered the unpredictable Brooks in three consecutive games, the last a 6-to-0 shutout by southpaw Johnny Schmitz.

BROOKLYN put a temporary halt to downgrade movement by eking out a 4-to-2 ten inning verdict at Boston. But last night although the score was the same the victors were not. Johnny Sain racked up his 15th success to clasp another game off the pace-setting margin.

The Cardinals, launching their stretch drive unusually early, smashed out 14 hits, including home runs by Del Rice and Whitey Kurowski, to claw the Cubs, 8 to 2, behind Harry (The Cat) Brecheen. St. Louis has now run up five straight victories, and in the last two days has pounded Cub pitchers for 31 base hits.

In short, the Cards have bounced back. They have shaken off the allegedly demoralizing effect of their three losses to Brooklyn, and hurled another challenge at a tottering, but still confident ball club.

In another national league night game, baseball's David and Goliath sparked the New York Giants to a 5-to-2 victory over the last-place Philadelphia Phillies. Stocky Dave Koslo unbent his slingshot left-arm in a three-hit performance, and the Goliath of Gotham, Johnny Mize smashed home runs 33 and 34 to thunder two games ahead of Babe Ruth's 1927 record-setting pace.

THE PITTSBURG Pirates climbed further from their recently-vacated cellar by smashing four Red pitchers for 11 hits, and combining these hits with 10 walks for a 12 to 4 triumph.

The injury-riddled New York Yankees offset their ailments with a four-run spurge in the ninth to defeat the Athletics, 8 to 5, and stretch their lead in the American League to 14 full games, the season's high. Allie Reynolds got credit for his 14th win, another high in the American League.

A three-run rally in the seventh iced the game for the Cleveland Indians, and gave Lou Boudreau's men an 8-to-4 verdict over Dizzy Trout and fading Detroit Tigers.

The American League champion Boston Red Sox could not solve the slants of bespectacled Walter Masterson last night, and fell victim to the Washington Senators, 3 to 1. Dave Ferris

Richards Beat Moose 4-3 For Bracket Champs

Richards' Implements Tuesday night defeated Chillicothe Moose Club 4 to 3 to become champs of the winners brackets in the District Tournament at Portsmouth.

Going into the seventh with the score tied at 3 all Richards loaded the bases with no one out. Strawser, pitching for Chillicothe settled down and retired Gulick and Moon.

With two out and the bases loaded B. Ankrum hit a hard grounder to short. The ball was fumbled and Ankrum was safe at first. Tracey scored from third to give Richards the winning run.

Chillicothe put on their scoring spurt in the first inning. Two men went to base on walks. Denny hit a homer to score the only runs the Moose tallied.

First Richards run came in the third with a homer by Tracey. Richards scored again in the fourth and fifth to tie up the ball game.

The win gave Richards a firm hold on the District championship. There will be an 8 or 9 day lay-off while the champion of the losers bracket is determined. In the final play-off Richards will have to be beaten twice in one night to lose the championship. One win and one loss in the finals will give Richards the District Championship.

The winner of the District will play in the State Tournament starting at Springfield, August 22nd.

BLUES TAKE TWO FROM COLONELS 4 TO 0; 6 TO 0

Red Birds Snag Decision From St. Paul In Ninth Inning 2 To 1

By now it is obvious that the Kansas City Blues are determined to let nothing interfere with their pennant rush.

The Blues took most of the steam out of Louisville's bid to overhaul them last night with a double triumph, 4 to 0 and 6 to 2, over the second placers.

The two victories, at the outset of a four-day "crucial" series between the Blues and Colonels, increased the Kansas City lead from three to five games.

As has so often been the case this season, brilliant pitching stood the Blues in good stead again last night. Marius Russo, recently shifted by the Yankee organization from Newark of the international League, tossed a five-hit shutout in the seven-inning twilight game. Young Cal McLish spaced eight hits while his mates collected 15 in the nightcap.

Jerry Witte, Toledo's slugging star, hit his eighth homer in since rejoining the Mud Hens and his sixth since Saturday as the Hens defeated Minneapolis, 6 to 3, behind big Ray Shore. Dick Kimble of the Mud Hens also belted a round-tripper.

Pete Castiglione's ninth-inning single drove in the decisive tally in Indianapolis' 3-to-2 victory over Milwaukee. Royce Lint, youthful southpaw, was the winner. He allowed five hits while the veteran Buck Ross of Milwaukee was granting 12.

The Columbus Red Birds also snagged a ninth-round decision, beating St. Paul, 2 to 1, on three singles and a walk. Leroy Pfund was the loser and Wayne Mcleland the winner.

RODNEY FAVORED TODAY IN HAMBLETONIAN STAKES

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 6.—The 22nd renewal of the Hambletonian Stakes was to unfold its $46,000 story on Goshen's good time track today with 13 of the nation's leading three-year-old trotters attempting to declare themselves in on the divvy.

Horace Johnston's Rodney, unbeaten as a three-year-old after a 2:02 mile as a yearling, with Bi Shively driving, was a tentative 2-1 in the overnight odds but seemed almost ordained to hit even money or less before post time.

Other horses to go are Joe's Pride, Grand Parade, Tyson Hanover, Deanna Hanover, Patrick Hanover, American Ballad and Black Key.

FOUR MARKSMEN FIRE PERFECT SCORE AT PERRY

CAMP PERRY, O., Aug. 6 — Four marksmen who fired perfect scores held the lead today in the national individual rifle championships being held at Camp Perry, O.

They were two unknowns, Marvin K. Weisner, Des Moines, Ia., and Bob Perkins, Fresno, Cal.; and Charles Whipple, Greensburg, Pa., and John Crowley, Hamden, Conn.

Defending champion Wayne Moore dropped three points in the first match of the day to trail the leaders.

Arthur G. Cook, Jr., Washington, D. C., set a new national match record of a perfect 400 with 36 x's in yesterday's firing. Cook's score with 10 shots in the

POSTAL CARD RADIO SETS

Personal Radio Receivers, Transmitters Made Practical by "Printed" Circuits

By JOHN L. KENT

Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Exceedingly compact radio sets are being built as a result of research by Dr. Cleo Brunetti and scientists of the National Bureau of Standards in Washington who developed the "printed" circuit method of wiring. Instead of wires and soldered joints ordinarily used to connect the various parts of the radio set, connections are made by silver lines printed or stenciled on an insulated base.

A radio manufacturer in New York has already turned out 5,000 four-tube radios small enough to fit a vest pocket. Using the printed circuit, Dr. Brunetti has also developed a lip-stick-size broadcasting station. The circuit is printed on the outside glass envelope of its vacuum tube. It is only one inch long and about one quarter-inch in diameter without its microphone.

VEST-POCKET-SIZE receiver of the sub-miniature radio tunes in on broadcast stations within a 126-mile radius. It has one-inch tubes and hearing-aid batteries. Teamed together the transmitter and receiver become a personal walkie-talkie.

A person can hold the transmitter and receiver in the palm of his hand and talk to friends or business associates while walking down Main street.

In addition to making the long-held-out promise of personal radio communication practical, the new printed circuit is a boon to the repairman. Since each circuit is an exact reproduction of the master pattern and has only two dimensions, breaks in wiring are apparent merely by looking at the circuit. No longer will the repairman find it necessary to go through a "rat's nest" of wires and connections.

Experts are going this advantage one better. They hope to get the cost of these receivers and transmitters down so low that when a set needs repair, it will be discarded and a new one bought.

WIRING costs represent the top item in the production cost of the conventional radio set. Wires must be cut to length, bent into shape and individually soldered or connected with screws. As there are close to a hundred soldering operations in the average household set, labor and materials for soldering alone cost more than the parts making up the set.

Printed circuits are expected to eliminate about two-thirds of conventional wiring. To many production experts there appears to be no reason why portable radio sets could not be built to sell for $3 or $4 instead of the present $25 and $30.

Making a radio with the printed circuit is easy. The wiring is stenciled on a non-conducting base plate of ceramic, bakelite or other non-conductor, by a silk screen process using silver paint or ink.

The imprinted base plate is heated in an oven to bind the silver to the base. The cost of the "LIPSTICK" RADIO STATION—Dr. Brunetti holds sub-miniature radio transmitter, complete with batteries and microphone. Sub-miniature receiving set, with hearing-aid batteries and speaker, lies on table.

PRINTED CIRCUITS—The imprinted base of the sub-miniature radio receiver is removed from stencil press. Plan is to build so cheaply that, instead of undergoing repair, it may be discarded for new one.

minute quantity of silver used is lower than that of copper or other metal wire normally used.

Resistors are next printed in the same way. The resistor paint consists of a conducting material, an inert filler material and a binder. By varying the quantity of these ingredients resistance range from three ohms to 200 megohms may be obtained.

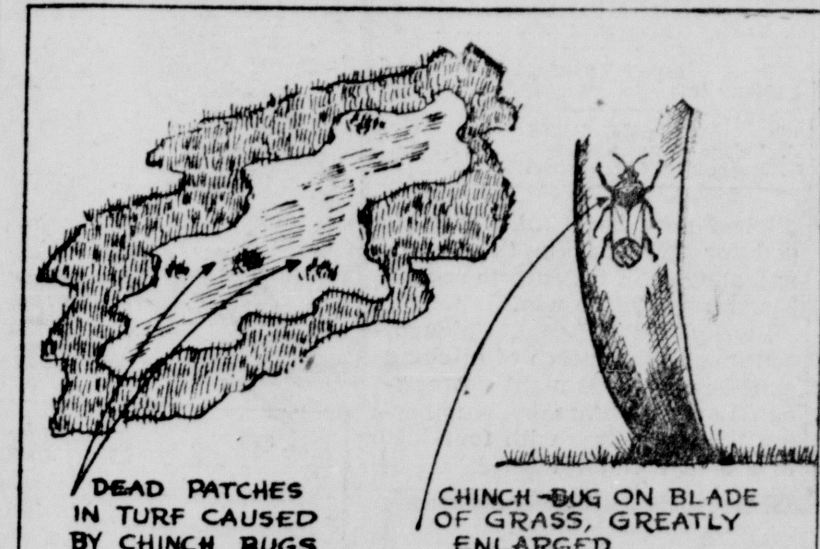

Finally, the remaining components such as capacitors and tubes are fitted into place. These are the only two types of parts requiring some wiring.

These printed circuits promise great reduction in the cost of other electrical devices such as telephones, automobile dashboard panels and other wired panels usually produced in quantity.

The New York radio maker whose initial 5,000 set production was a sell-out, is planning 50,000 more.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Registered U. S. Patent Office

Coping With the Chinch Bug

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Distributed by Central Press Association

HAS YOUR lawn developed freckles—brown spots with a yellowish circle around the outside? If so, you will probably find it is the work of the chinch bug.

The brown circle or irregular patch is composed of dead grass from which the chinch bugs have sucked the life-giving juice or sap. A typical dead area is illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. The yellowish outside area is where the bugs are still at work.

The illustration of a chinch bug on a blade of grass will help you to identify this pest. At this time of year, and again in late September, lawns may show chinch bug injury. This is when the adults of the generation of bugs have reached maturity. Both the young and adults puncture the grass stems and suck the juices.

The chinch bug has a black body and white wings. The adults vary from one-eighth to one-fifth of an inch in length. The young bugs do not have wings and may be either yellowish or reddish in color.

Since there are several broods of chinch bugs a year, efforts should be made to eradicate them. Finely ground tobacco dust can be sprinkled on the lawn as one defense against the chinch bug. If this is done, do not water the lawn for several days afterward.

Use tobacco dust at the rate of 25 pounds to 1,000 square feet of lawn.

Another good control is nicotine sulphate. Use a quart to 100 gallons of water with soap added to serve as a sticking agent. This mixture can be sprayed upon the lawn.

Assignment: America

permitted a tiny handful of members to play politics for half a year while our entire atomic program stagnated.

Other countries have acted no better, although their stake (pure survival) is as great as ours. Secretly, they scurry madly to steal or match our atomic developments. Openly, they bicker over details of world control, thus stalemating it. Blindly, they overlook the fact that both pathways lead only to destruction.

And when the United Nations can't agree unanimously, it passes blithely by the atom bomb and takes up some other problem.

Thus today, two years after Hiroshima's horrors, humanity still faces the basic problem of atom bomb control much after the fashion of the two late lamented picnickers who met the grizzly bear.

"Let's just ignore it," said one, "and maybe it will go away."

"No," said the other speculatively, "let's walk different ways. Then it will only get one of us."

But the bear was too hungry to wait until they quit bickering, so he killed them both.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

BOTH ON THEIR TOES
SUCCESSFUL defense against many contracts depends upon both partners being on their toes. One of them may make an early play which develops the side's only possibility to beat the enemy. But if his partner then fails to do his part, the effort is wasted. Co-operative playing of that type involves the need of each partner analyzing the motive of the man across from him when he makes some particular maneuver. That can furnish the key to what his holding is and therefore act as a guide to what his associate must do.

Two tables of a pair duplicate tournament furnished that identical bidding, and exactly the same early play. At each West led the heart Q, East overtaking with the K, scoring the A and then returning the 8 to force a ruff in the dummy. The purpose of making the dummy ruff was, of course, to keep declarer from leading through the guarded K three times. Following that trick, each declarer finessed the spade J and Q, then led the diamond J. There is where the difference came.

One West took the diamond J with his A and returned his heart J, compelling South to ruff. That declarer then went to dummy with the diamond 7 to the K and ruffed the diamond Q to shorten his own trumps to the same length as East's, two, with the A-10 sitting over the K-7. Next he scored the club K and A and led a third club from dummy. East had to play from his two trumps before South, so his K was shut out by the grand coup. At the other table, West led the diamond J with the sixth trick and took the 7 with his A. That made it impossible for South to reach dummy, ruff a diamond, then go to dummy again to lead through East. So he wound up with three trumps in his own hand and had to lead to East, whose spade K consequently scored the setting trick.

Helvering Says Sewers Inadequate

SERVICE CHIEF CITES NEED OF IMPROVEMENTS

Councilmen Consider Heavy
Losses Due To Flooding
In Several Areas

Implications that the flooding of yards and basements in some sections of Circleville after recent rains has been due to some extent by unclogged and clogged storm sewers were denied by City Service Director Clarence Helvering at the city council meeting Tuesday night.

During a lengthy discussion in which it was revealed that many complaints had been filed by property owners, especially on East Mound street, Pleasant street, and in other areas on the east and north sides of the city, Director Helvering said that the storm sewers "are just not big enough" to handle the flow of water after a heavy rain.

The service director insisted that all of the sewers have recently been thoroughly cleaned. He said that the service department has planned some improvements to the sewer system but that the actual work has been held up because the department has not yet been given the grades by City Engineer Harry G. Griner.

All of the council members present — Councilman William M. Reid was absent — participated in the lively discussion. It got under way when Councilman Robert E. Adkins declared that the sewers should be thoroughly cleaned at regular intervals in order to cut down losses from surplus water.

IN APPROVING the proposal Councilman Ray Cook asserted that the trunk sewers are too small to handle the situation.

"Half of the sewers in Circleville are partly filled with sand, stones, sticks — and everything else," declared Councilman Boyd L. Horn.

John C. Goeller, council president, commented that "it is up to this council and the service director to get something done about this sewer situation."

Councilman John Eshelman arose and said "I have not been able to get specific information as to what Mr. Helvering plans to do. I had hoped that either he or Mayor Gordon would discuss this situation."

At this juncture Goeller requested Safety Director Thurman I. Miller to attempt to locate the service director or mayor. Director Miller left the council chamber. He returned, accompanied by Director Helvering and Mayor Gordon.

Director Helvering and Mayor Gordon answered questions, relative to the storm sewers, asked by the council members and by property owners in the audience. Mayor Gordon said he believed the city should get some aid from Pickaway county in handling the matter.

Councilman Eshelman said several homes on Pleasant street suffered flooded basements after Tuesday afternoon's rain. That

Two More Days of Intense Heat Forecast

HEAVY RAINFALL PROVIDES ONLY BRIEF RESPITE

Pickaway County Slightly More Fortunate Than Other Burning Areas

Two more days of intense heat was forecast today by the weather bureau before sweltering Ohioans can expect any relief from cooler air moving slowly, but surely, out of the Northwest.

Pickaway county residents gained a brief respite from the scorching heat as a result of a 90-minute thunder storm Tuesday afternoon in which 1.78 inches of rain fell between 3:30 and 5 o'clock, but Tuesday night the mercury again rose. The high temperature Tuesday was 95 in mid-afternoon and the low was 68. The thermometer registered 75 degrees at 8 a. m. Wednesday and at 10:30 the reading was 80.

Pickaway county was more fortunate than most Ohio counties Wednesday in the serving of the weather menu. The sky was somewhat overcast, ascension of the mercury was slower than in many other areas, and an occasional cooling breeze took some of the edge off the heat and humidity.

YESTERDAY THE THIRD day of the torrid wave which is blanketing the central part of the nation—the mercury skyrocketed to 99 degrees at Findlay and established new high temperature records for Aug. 5 in most places.

It was 97 degrees at Cincinnati and Toledo, 96 at Columbus, 95 at Dayton and 94 at Cleveland, where the mercury topped by two degrees the previous high of 92 set Aug. 5, 1887.

After hitting 96 degrees at Columbus yesterday afternoon, the mercury dropped 13 degrees in less than an hour as a storm and cooling winds hit the area.

Other places also were temporarily cooled by showers, but the mercury again was on the upsurge everywhere today and in some instances was expected to exceed yesterday's high readings. A high of 98 was forecast for Cincinnati this afternoon.

Weatherman C. G. Andrus said that scattered light showers should precede the influx of cooler air into Ohio late tomorrow night or early Friday. He advised, however, that the mercury would rise again.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan

The records of the war are now about complete—they show that several thousand soldiers got medals for valor and several chorus girls got handbags for nothing.

But as one citizen remarked "I'm glad I bought war bonds—some poor girl might have had to carry her money tied in a corner of her handkerchief."

However, shortages still continue—horseplayers are complaining that they can't find a good book in New York.

One fellow forced to go to the track to lay his bet saw a horse for the first time and was shocked.

He said "are those the clumsy things I've been betting on?" friend says "what do you mean clumsy?" He says "the dopes get down on their hands to run—who don't they stand up and run like a man?"

You won't know the old town when you see it again—everything has changed except Grant's tomb and the subway fare.

CHIEF ACCEPTS BID OF BRAZIL

Truman Plans Three Day Visit, Flying To Rio In New Plane

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—President Truman formally accepted an invitation today to make a three-day visit to Brazil next month. He will fly to Rio De Janeiro in his new DC-6 plane, the "Independence."

The White House announced that Mr. Truman will leave Washington during the latter part of this month or in the early part of September for his third official visit to a strategically important neighboring country.

The chief executive's visit to Brazil will coincide with the meeting of foreign secretaries of all the American republics, who are gathering in Rio Aug. 15, to discuss hemisphere defense problems.

The White House said that Mr. Truman will return from South America aboard the battleship Missouri, historic vessel which was the scene of the formal Japanese surrender.

Mrs. Truman and Miss Margaret Truman are expected to accompany the President to Brazil.

Although the White House declined to state definitely whether the President will address the hemisphere conference, it was understood that he will speak to the foreign ministers at their closing session.

1948 DRIVERS' LICENSE SALE TO OPEN SEPT 2

The earlier date of sale was set to give all motorists sufficient time to get their licenses because of an expected increase in the number of applicants.

Disclosure that most of the members of the city council have objected to the $20,000 bill for legal services, submitted to the city by Attorneys Joseph W. Adkins and Tom A. Renick, was made at Tuesday night's council session during which nine ordinances were passed and three resolutions were adopted.

Councilman George L. Crites said that Attorneys Adkins and Renick "have submitted a tentative bill" for $20,000 for legal services. Councilman Crites declared he believed the bill "exorbitant" and he expressed the opinion that it should not have been more than $10,000. He suggested that council take some action leading to disposal of the matter.

Councilman Ray Cook suggested that the city make a "counter" offer to Attorneys Adkins and Renick and he suggested that the council meet as a committee of the whole for discussion of the fee to be paid to the two attorneys who represented the city in the prolonged negotiations which ended with the purchase of the water system from the Ohio Water Service company by the municipality.

COUNCILMAN John W. Eshelman seconded Councilman Cook's motion for a meeting of the council as a committee of the whole and the vote was unanimous after Councilman Robert E. Adkins had made it plain that because he is a brother of Attorney Adkins he will abstain from voting and from taking any part in the negotiations with the two lawyers.

Declaring that Pennsylvania trains frequently block grade crossings in Circleville and thus inconvenience the public, Councilman Boyd L. Horn's motion that City Solicitor George Gerhardt file a formal complaint with that railroad was passed by unanimous vote.

Resolutions adopted (1) granted consent to the state highway department to rebuild over Hargus creek the 63-year-old steel bridge which collapsed as a consequence of the near-cloudburst and flood July 14, after Solicitor Gerhardt had explained that although an ordinance to this effect was read for the first time at the July 15 council meeting highway officials subsequently requested that a resolution be submitted for the ordinance, (2) authorized replacement of certain equipment at the waterworks pump station with electric and gasoline equipment, and (3) authorized the purchase of certain equipment for the waterworks pumps station to replace certain steam boilers and chlorinators.

TWO OF THE nine ordinances were passed after heated oral clashes among opposing council members.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 6—Twenty-five hereford steers from the farm of William Kuhlman, of Woodville, brought a new top price of $32.60 per hundredweight on the Cleveland union stockyards.

The steers weighed an average of 1078 pounds. Two days ago, Kuhlman's cattle registered the previous high of $32.50 with a lot of nine Hereford steers averaging 1177 pounds each.

WRIGHT FAR AHEAD

JACKSON, MISS., Aug. 6—Gov. Fielding L. Wright appeared assured today of re-nomination as latest tabulations in yesterday's Democratic primary in Mississippi gave him a 9,000 vote lead over his nearest rival. Nomination as the Democratic candidate is tantamount to election in Mississippi.

BRITAIN PINS SURVIVAL HOPE ON AUSTERITY

U. S. Generosity Abandoned As Clue To Regaining Place In Sun

LONDON, Aug. 6—Great Britain abandoned American generosity as the clue to her national survival today, imposing in its place a program of unparalleled austerity and stepped-up production in all fields of endeavor.

In a report to the house of commons disclosing that the three billion, 750 million dollar American loan is more than two-thirds spent and will be all gone by the end of the year, Prime Minister Attlee announced his plans.

He stressed that there is a difference between gravity and panic but added this warning: "We cannot and will not base our plans on assumption of further American help."

Attlee appeared before a jam-packed house to deliver his long-awaited grim economic report at a moment when well-informed circles conceded that a British cabinet mission may go to Washington shortly in quest of new financial aid.

Enthusiastically cheered by his laborite following, Attlee denied former Prime Minister Churchill's charge that the American loan had been "frittered away."

He said the fast withdrawals were due to circumstances beyond immediate control.

THE PRIME minister said that Britain already has drawn the equivalent of two billion, 714 millions of dollars on her American credit.

He said: "I am stressing the gravity of the situation."

"But there is a difference between panic and gravity. . . . 'Nevertheless the trend cannot be allowed to continue at this rate.'"

To remedy the situation Att- (Continued on Page Two)

U. S. INTENSIFIES DRIVE TO FREE RED SATELLITES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—The United States today intensified its drive to assure free governments in the Russian Satellite nations by charging that Romania violated its peace treaty by purging Democratic opposition leaders.

The latest protest was delivered by Roy M. Melbourne, acting U. S. representative in Budapest to Romanian Foreign Minister Tatarescu.

The note was the latest communication of an exchange started June 24 expressing American concern over the arrest of Romanian national Peasant party leaders who played "an outstanding role during the war in the efforts of Romanian liberals to make peace with the Allies."

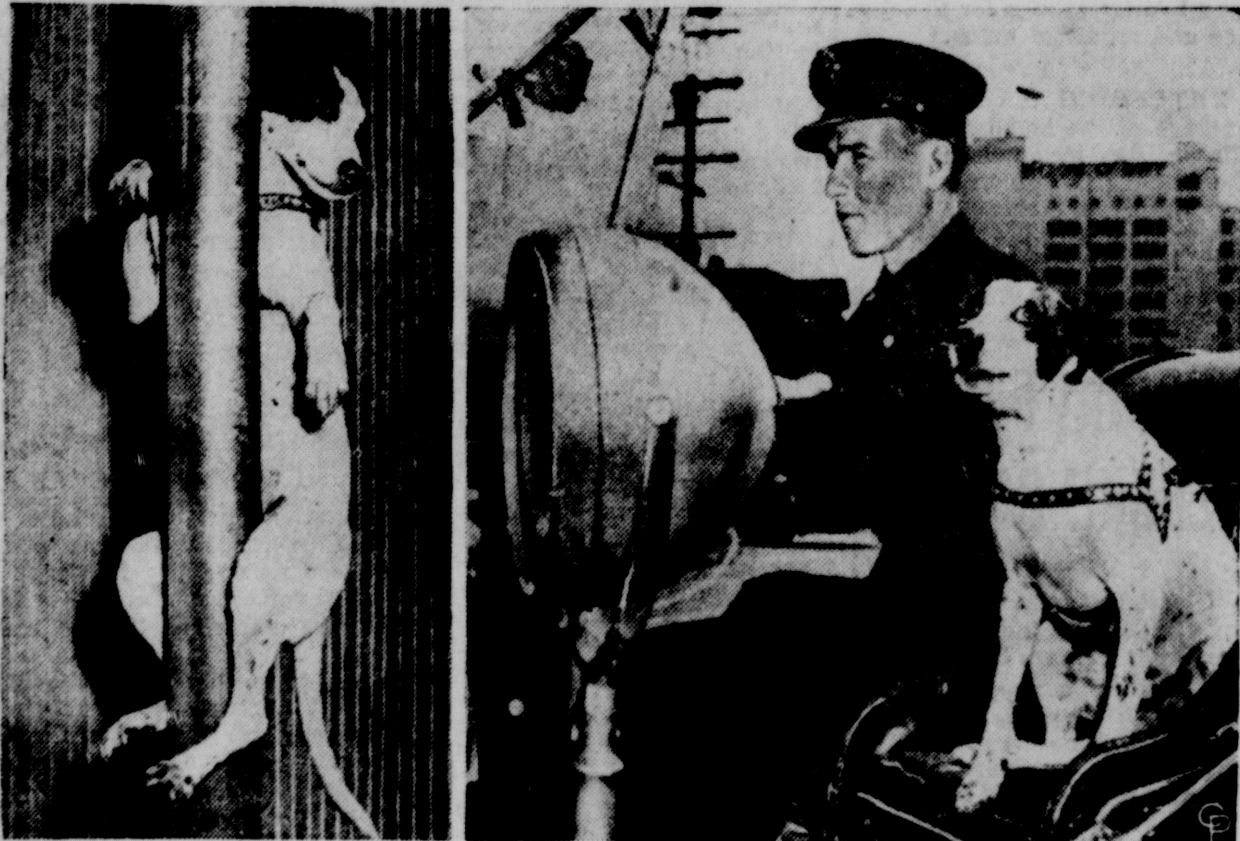

The earlier note was rejected July 12 by the Romanian regime on the ground that U. S. action constituted interference in Romania's internal policy.

MARGARET TRUMAN TO MAKE DEBUT ON COAST

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 6—Margaret Truman, daughter of the President, has been signed for her concert debut this Summer in Hollywood bowl.

Dr. Karl Wecker, general manager of the Hollywood Bowl Association, said:

"This will mark Margaret's public debut as a concert soprano. Her only other professional appearance was in a radio appearance, limited to a small audience at the studio." Wecker did not disclose under what terms he had obtained Miss Truman nor a definite date for her debut.

INDUSTRY SEES GAS SHORTAGE

Oil Products Consumption Now Greater Than During War

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—Temporary shortages of fuel oils and gasoline, particularly in the Midwest, were foreseen today in a special summary of the nation's petroleum position released by spokesmen for the industry.

Asserting that the national consumption of oil products is even greater now than during the war, an American Petroleum Institute report blamed industrial shortages and lack of transportation for the anticipated dearth of automobile fuels and oil.

The report revealed that the industry is now refining more than five million barrels of crude oil a day, compared with a wartime peak of 4,711,000 barrels and a pre-war peak of a million barrels less per day.

The institute declared that conservation by the public of gasoline this Summer, and of home heating this Fall and Winter "can alleviate and may eliminate" oil shortages.

SPOKESMEN ALSO urged that fuel oil tanks be kept filled (Continued on Page Two)

21 INJURED AS PASSENGER AND FREIGHT CRASH

LITCHFIELD, Ill., Aug. 6—The Illinois Central "Green Diamond" passenger train, en route from St. Louis to Chicago, crashed into a freight train today near Litchfield, injuring more than 21 persons, some seriously.

Attendees at St. Francis hospital in Litchfield reported at least 21 of the passengers aboard the train were received for treatment, and more were expected. They said they had no report of anyone killed.

The accident happened one and one-half miles south of the town.

Litchfield police, volunteers, doctors and nurses were rushed to the scene at once.

The train's diesel locomotive, together with the first four passenger coaches and the dining car, overturned.

FIRE IN THEATRE

PORTSMOUTH, O., Aug. 6—One hundred movie patrons were driven to the street, but none was injured last night when a blaze broke out in the projection room of the Westland theatre in Portsmouth. A spark ignited film. Damage was estimated at $1,500, most of it to the projection equipment.

"BOMBSHELL" TO UNDERGO TESTS BEFORE BIG HOP

CHICAGO, Aug. 6—The Reynolds "Bomshell" will undergo several hours of stern tests today before Capt. Bill Odom takes off from Chicago International Airport on his second solo globe-circling flight attempt.

Odom announced plans for the exhaustive tests after receiving mechanics reports that the "Bomshell" might have burst into flames had he flown it another hour on his first attempt Monday night.

After the tests, Odom will set a new take-off time for the "round-the-world flight."

The mechanics said that a carburetor heat control rod jammed on the first leg of his projected flight Monday. The rod jamming caused a loosening of the exhaust stack and hot gases poured onto a universal joint, fusing the metal parts.

Odom decided to return to Chicago Monday night after he noticed aileron and fuel feed trouble when over Newfoundland.

EISLER SET TO DENY ROLE OF RED ORGANIZER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—Gerhardt Eisler resumes the witness stand today in a further effort to erase the government portrait of himself as a Comintern agent delegated to reorganize the American Communist party.

The alleged No. 1 Soviet agent first took the stand in his own defense as his federal district trial on a passport fraud charge moved into its fourth week.

Defense counsel expect Eisler to round out his story today, after which he faces a barrage of cross-examination from the prosecution on his testimony of the last two days.

Eisler, an admitted German communist, is charged with making false statements to the government in applying for an exit visa from the United States in September, 1945.

If convicted on the passport fraud charge Eisler faces a maximum penalty of five years in jail plus a $5,000 fine.

GRANGE MEMBERSHIP GOES PAST 10,000 MARK

ASHTABULA, O., Aug. 6—The Ohio State Grange boosted its new membership total past the 10,000 mark today following the mass initiation of 1,000 yesterday at Wooster.

The meeting was the 14th of a state-wide series of 15 meetings held by the Grange. Joseph W. Fichter, master of the Grange, received a telegram of congratulations from National Master A. S. Goss on the membership achievement.

The last of the Grange meetings will be held today at Leavittsburg in Trumbull county.

RUSSIA FACES REBUKE ON VETO

Strong Statement On Views Of U. S. To Be Presented At Security Council Meet

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 6—An authoritative American source indicated the United States would charge "abuse" of the veto in the United Nations security council today as a rebuke to Soviet Russia for blocking action in the Balkan border crisis.

A U. S. delegation spokesman indicated U. S. Representative Herschel V. Johnson planned to deliver a strong statement of American views on indiscriminate use of the veto during the afternoon session.

The full support of Britain was anticipated.

A week has passed since Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko's veto shattered the American plan for a semi-permanent border "watchdog" group to observe the frontiers of Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria. But resentment still ranked among the delegates.

The Johnson statement was to precede resumption of discussion of the Greek issue, which was tossed anew into the council when Greece, through its representative Vassili Dendramis, invoked Chapter VII of the charter.

SCHOOL BONDS PURCHASED BY CINCINNATI FIRM

J. A. White and Company, Cincinnati, have bought $387,000 in Circleville school bonds.

Bids of ten firms were submitted and that of the Cincinnati firm was 1 3/4 percent plus a premium of $8,249.00 plus interest on the bonds from June 1, 1947, to date of delivery at 1 3/4 percent. Sale of bonds is to finance a new trade school and new physical education building.

20,000 OHIO WORKERS TO GET RETROACTIVE PAY

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 6—Retrospective pay checks ranging from $45 to $310, less deductions, will be distributed to some 20,000 state employees beginning Aug. 20.

The checks represent the eight-and-one-third-percent increase granted by the last legislature and will be for the period from Jan. 1 to July 1.

SOLONS HURL QUESTIONS AT PLANE MAKER

Brewster Welcomes Chance To Quiz Key Witness In Sensational Probe

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—Howard Hughes, multi-millionaire plane builder, took the witness stand today to tell senate investigators about his 40 million dollars worth of wartime aircraft contracts and how he got them.

A Hollywood atmosphere prevailed in the senate caucus room as the lanky, mustached Hughes faced his interrogators, including Sen. Brewster (R) Me., war investigating committee chairman, whom he repeatedly has assailed in blistering statements.

Sen. Brewster welcomed the opportunity to fire a barrage of questions at the key witness in the sensational probe. more more more more more

FLASH BULBS glared, Kleig lights bathed the senate caucus room in a "studio glow," news-reel cameras ground, and the spectators who jammed the chamber to the bursting point leaned forward eagerly.

Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich., who gained fame as Michigan's "one-man grand jury," was expected to quiz Hughes on his feud with Brewster before going into the question of contracts given the 41-year-old manufacturer for planes rejected by army experts.

Brewster and Hughes have been engaged in a cross-country verbal battle highlighted by Hughes' charge that the senator launched the present probe when a "blackmail" attempt failed.

HUGHES ASSERTED that Brewster offered to call off the contract inquiry if he would merge his Trans World Airlines (TWA) with Pan American Airways, in whose fortunes, Hughes alleged, the senator had more than a passing interest.

Ferguson declared that Hughes' demand that he be permitted to cross-examine Brewster, who has agreed to go on the witness stand, would not be granted.

QUIZ CALLED ON JURY FAILURE TO NAME LYNCHERS

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 6—North Carolina Gov. Gregg Cherry prepared today to assign a superior court judge to investigate a grand jury's refusal to indict seven white men in the attempted lynching of Negro Godwin "Buddy" Bush.

Gov. Cherry called the jury's action a gross miscarriage of justice and said he would order the case reopened with a superior judge sitting as magistrate.

The Northampton county jurors also failed to return a true bill, as requested, against Bush on a charge of attempting to criminally assault Mrs. Margaret Allen Bryant, a 23-year-old Rich Square, N. C. stenographer.

The seven white men, who were accused of snatching Bush from the Jackson, county jail last May 23, declined comment on their acquittal.

Bush eluded the group and hid in the woods for two days before surrendering to authorities.

SEPTEMBER 11 SET FOR CITY SCHOOL OPENING

Opening date of Circleville Public Schools was set at Thursday, September 11, by a meeting of the Circleville Board of Education August 5.

Tentative schedule calls for a staff of 56 teachers, a slight increase over the faculty of last year. Supt. Frank L. Fischer estimated an enrollment of 1500 pupils in the local schools for the coming school year.

SOLONS HURL $20,000 Water Works Questions At Council: Plane Maker Fee Shocks Council: Compromise Sought

A motion picture company, the biggest brewery in Texas, and the immensely profitable Hughes Tool Co., at Houston, the "mother lode" of his vast fortune.

HE DISREGARDED a committee subpoena issued last Friday ordering his "immediate" appearance, and delayed his arrival in Washington until this morning. He flew his personal plane from Los Angeles.

Hughes began his testimony amid scenes of wild confusion virtually unprecedented in congressional history.

Appearing 15 minutes late, Hughes on his arrival at the senate caucus room touched off such an uproar that the hearing was further delayed while attaches sought to restore order.

Photographers climbed over chairs and tables in order to get "better" pictures of the young multi-millionaire and the crowd broke into cheers as the lanky Hughes stalked toward the stand.

Hughes, usually of dour mien, grinned as he elbowed his way through the jam of humanity.

Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich., finally succeeded in scattering the photographers and began questioning Hughes, who immediately asked that the klieg lights be extinguished.

In deference to the plane builder's deafness, Ferguson asked his questions loudly and slowly.

FERGUSON KEPT his threat to make Hughes "cool his heels" today while the committee went on with other witnesses.

The plane-builder's public relations man, John W. Meyer, went back under the klieg lights this morning.

Thomas A. Slack, Hughes' attorney, informed the committee: "Pursuant to your request, Mr. Hughes is here and ready and anxious to testify at the convenience of the committee."

He added that when he said "here" he meant that Hughes was in Washington not in the hearing room.

Hughes arrived at the capital at 6:11 a. m. (EST) after a one-stop flight from his Culver City, Calif., airport.

Ferguson said that Slack's announcement was "the first official news we had that Hughes was here."

THE SENATOR added: "We will proceed with the morning session, which will be shorter than usual, and then recess for the afternoon session with Hughes to be the first witness."

With Hughes' appearance delayed until afternoon, Meyer continued the tale of his check-paying wartime career. Without Elliott Roosevelt in the cast, the overflow audience found the proceedings dull. The pudgy entertainment specialist was bored, too.

Meyer declared: "The way I keep my accounts was satisfactory of Mr. Hughes and I never expected to have to explain them to anybody else."

Meyer flared up again over the mention of $50 and $100 gifts to girls. He said:

"When I told you in secret session that I gave somebody a present for dining with me, no other inference was ever made."

Meyer declared under questioning by Ferguson, that $97,000 of the $164,000 he spent on "public relations" was used on just one customer—the United States government.

He admitted the $97,000 was used to entertain army officers, including Elliott Roosevelt and public officials in connection with the Hughes "Hercules" flying boat and the F-11 reconnaissance plane.

Circleville residents who have no garage and are therefore compelled to park their cars in front of their homes. He suggested the solicitor revamp the ordinance and aim it at "junk" cars and against use of streets for a workshop. During the three-way tiff which then developed among Solicitor Gerhardt and Councilmen Anderson and Horn it was declared by Solicitor Gerhardt that it is "impossible to define a junk auto" in an ordinance.

"I don't believe in cutting the throats of 6,000 Circleville people in order to stop one garage operator," Councilman Horn asserted.

Councilman Crites urged passage of the ordinance as already written. Councilman Cook commented that it was "unlikely" that there would be prosecution of "a man who parks his car in front of his home for more than 24 hours."

WHEN A squabble developed over passage of an ordinance after its third and final reading, to expend $250 for purchase and installation of a traffic light at South Court and Walnut streets, and when the roll-call ended in a 3 to 3 tie vote on the legislation, John C. Goeller, as council president, stepped into the breach, cast the deciding vote in the affirmative, and the ordinance was passed. Councilmen Crites, Cook and Eshelman voted against the legislation. Those who voted in favor included Councilmen Adkins, Anderson and Horn. During the discussion preceding the roll-call Councilman Crites said a traffic light at that location would be a "nuisance". Voicing opposition to traffic lights to curb speeders Councilman Cook said: "If the police fill the jail with speeders for three successive nights the Court street situation will alleviate itself."

OTHER ORDINANCES, which were passed by unanimous vote on their final readings, (1) authorized the safety director to expend $250 for a 2500-watt emergency lighting unit for the fire department after it was explained that this portable outfit already has been bought by Fire Chief Talmer Wise and that the money is to reimburse him, (2) appropriated $2,200 from the general fund for operation of the water department by the board of public utilities including $500 for new meters and $350 for salaries for utilities board members, (3) appropriated $500 to pay the salary of the Ted Lewis Park keeper, (4) appropriated $3,000 for the purchase of needed supplies for Berger hospital, (5) authorized overtime pay for employees a Berger hospital, including $1 an hour to the superintendent, nurses, and technicians, and 50 cents an hour for cooks and nurses aides, (6) appropriated $300 for extension of the First avenue sanitary sewer, and (7) appropriated $459 for the purchase of chairs and linoleum and installation of a shower bath in the fire station.

Mayor Ben H. Gordon's report for July, approved by council, listed fines, $30; licenses, $4, and bonds $160.

Financial report of the city, submitted by Councilman Crites as chairman of the finance committee and approved unanimously, listed: General fund, receipts $1,232,333, expenditures $13,235,09, balance $12,318.59; sewage disposal, receipts $3,597.98, expenditures $1,591.06, balance $3,657.78; Library fund, receipts $103.87, expenditures $1,149.54, balance $7,567.20; auto street repair, receipts $7,307.50, expenditures $3,477.94, balance $5,424.74; gasoline tax fund, receipts $2,349.59, expenditures $887.74, balance $1,461.85; hospital fund, receipts $3,092.43, expenditures $4,561.02, balance $1,668.59; and waterworks fund, receipts $6,254.41, expenditures $10,469.13, balance $2,067.93. CORN SOARS TO SECOND RECORD WITHIN WEEK

CHICAGO, Aug. 6—An all-time record high for corn was established in Chicago today as weather news pushed the September future to $2.24 3/4 a bushel.

The price was 5 1/2 cents above yesterday's closing level.

Other corn futures skyrocketed to new seasonal peaks. Wheat and oats future rose with corn, but gains were not as large.

The previous high for corn was $2.22 1/2, on Monday of this week. Today's peak was the highest in the 99-year history of the Chicago board of trade.

In mythology, Dipsas was a serpent, so named because those bitten by it suffered from intolerable thirst.

BRITAIN PINS SURVIVAL HOPE ON AUSTERITY

lee—as expected—proposed the following:

- 1—Keener and further development of British resources, principally for export.
- 2—A tight checkrein on all non-essentials for home consumption.
- 3—An increase in total production output.
- 4—A speed-up in plans for expansion of production throughout the colonial empire.

Attlee said the British themselves were responsible for some of their plight. But he contended it was due mainly to "adverse factors outside our control."

The prime minister said he was setting "new and definite targets" for basic industries, particularly coal.

FROM SEPTEMBER to April, coal will be set at a minimum of four million deep-mined tons weekly, while steel is set at 12 1/2 million tons for 1947 and 14 million tons in 1948.

In addition, Attlee announced plans for a drastic overhauling of the transport industry.

The prime minister announced an agricultural drive aimed to produce 400 million dollars worth of food annually by 1951 or 1952—a 20 per cent increase that will involve employment of an additional 100 thousand workers.

Attlee admitted that the 1947 export target will not be reached. Nevertheless he said there would be a tremendous export drive for 1948 designed to raise 1938 export figures by 140 per cent in the first six months and 160 per cent in the second half of the year.

He said:

"This means hardship and some sacrifice of individual liberty but it is a necessary and not a wanton act of the government."

Attlee warned employers that wherever there is inefficiency or lack of cooperation "the government will not hesitate to take effective action."

Specific curtailments included: Remittances on foreign films to be limited to 25 per cent of their earnings in Britain.

Pleasure gasoline allowance is cut one-third and essential allowances 10 per cent.

Foreign travel allowance is reduced from 300 dollars annually to $120 for a 14-month period beginning Oct. 1.

THE ARMED forces will be reduced to one million, 700 thousand men by the end of March, 1947.

Importation of miscellaneous luxury consumer goods is cut by 20 million dollars.

Timber imports are cut 40 million dollars.

Food imports from "hard currency" areas are shaved to 48 million dollars monthly.

Attlee said:

"We will do everything in our power to maintain basic food rations, but if it is necessary to reduce them, preference will be given to heavy manual workers."

New restrictions on eating in hotels and restaurants were imposed forthwith.

HAMLIN RESIGNS

Resignation of Edward R. Hamlyn, who has spent one year as teacher of dramatics and speech in the Circleville school system, was announced by the board of education Wednesday.

Mr. Hamlyn, spending the Summer at Rutherford, New Jersey, has not revealed future plans.

Funeral services for Edward Bivens, 90, retired farmer who died at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday in his home at the rear of 128 East High street, will be conducted at 10:30 a. m. Thursday at the Defenbaugh funeral home. The Rev. George Troutman will officiate. Burial will be in Forest cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Mr. Bivens was born Jan. 9, 1857 in Ross county.

His survivors are his widow, Mrs. Susan Wrightsels Bivens; two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Blum, Columbus; and Mrs. Dorothy Fowler, Johnstown, Pa.; two sons, Harry Bivens, Shadysville; and Bryan Bivens, Circleville; two grandchildren, Betty Emerick, Columbus; and Jack cury would resume its upward trend by Saturday.

"I'M NOT EXPECTING any sharp fall in temperatures," Andrus said, "but compared with current ones, even the temporary relief should be welcomed."

Eleven straight days with little or no rain was beginning to concern farmers over the state. While the heat has promoted the growth of Ohio's belated corn crop, the burning sun also was searing the stalks in some areas.

Compared with other parts of the sun-baked nation, Ohio was somewhat fortunate.

YESTERDAY THE mercury hit 102 degrees at Marquette, Mich., and it was 100 at Chicago for the second day in a row. For the last three days at St. Louis the high temperatures ranged between 102-103 degrees.

High and low temperatures and rainfall amounts in inches, respectively, at various points for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a. m. today were:

Akron 92-69; Chesapeake 92-67; 17; Cincinnati 97-72; Cleveland 94-72; Columbus 96-69; Dayton 95-71; East Liverpool 89-62; Findlay 99-70; Hayesville 92-68; Parkersburg, W. Va., 94-69; Perry 91-72; Toledo 97-71; Wilmington 87-72; Youngstown 91-65, and Zanesville 93-66.

Reflection of the effects of the terrific heat and humidity of the past few days in Circleville was seen Wednesday in the fact that the Coca-Cola Bottling company which ordinary distributes about 125 cases of soft drinks. Company officials said that during the past two days the concern delivered more than 450 cases and that on each day the supply was exhausted.

YOUTH RELEASED

Robert Acker, 16, of Webster Groves, a St. Louis suburb, who was jailed July 31 in Circleville by Police Chief William F. Acker said he was a hitch-hiker and that he was for a time a passenger in a stolen car, but the interrogation reportedly disclosed that Acker had no part in the theft of the machine from which the driver ejected him several miles from Circleville after having driven across several states.

THOMAS BLACK

Thomas Black, 72, a resident of the South Bloomingville community for many years, died at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday in the home of Fred Justice there.

Mr. Black was born Aug. 10, 1874 in Hocking county, the son of James Black and Rebecca Hler Black.

He is survived by a brother, William Black, Charleston, W. Va.

Burial will take place at South Bloomingville. The body was removed to the Defenbaugh funeral home pending completion of funeral arrangements.

to release industry storage space for new supplies.

High level of industrial production, vastly increased military requirements, the greater number of cars on the road, and the increased use of oil-burning mechanical tools were cited as factors presaging a shortage.

Military requirements, according to the report, have soared from a pre-war demand of 12 million barrels annually to 81,800,000 barrels this year.

Aviation gasoline, recently described by the air forces as "critically short" will be in even greater demand in months to come, according to the petroleum institute's outlook.

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get relief in helping your stomach do the job it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing the flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent stimulating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Join the millions of the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

U. S. TO STAND FOR SHOWDOWN ON THURANSKY

Hungary To Be Reminded Country Still At War Because Of Soviet

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 — The United States today is determined to make a showdown of the incident involving the arrest of an American business man by Hungarian police on charges of speaking critically of the Communist-dominated Hungarian regime.

The incident, reading more like a movie Balkan thriller than a chapter on striped-pants diplomacy, revolves around Stephen Thuransky, Columbus, Ohio, representative in Budapest of the International Harvester Company.

(Thuransky is widely known in Circleville and vicinity, at one time being active in the policy racket and records show he was fined on numerous occasions for law violation in the city.)

HE WAS ARRESTED and jailed for issuing "anti-democratic utterances" — actually criticizing the Hungarian regime — on the streets of Balassagyarmat, a small border village last Friday night.

His release obtained, after formal procedures failed, when a lesser diplomat, Harrison Lewis, secretary of the legation in Budapest, took him from under the noses of Hungarian police and sped him to sanctuary in the legation.

The incident itself was not of major consequence, despite the daring with which Thuransky was released. But it forced an issue which the state department plans to push to the limit.

IN THE END the United States' course of action is expected to have these effects:

1. Remind the Communist-dominated regime in Hungary that, despite United States ratification of the Hungarian peace treaty, the country is still not at peace and subject to the strict armistice terms imposed by the victors.
2. Make the Hungarian people conscious of the fact that it's the guilt of the Soviet Union, which supports the present regime, that the peace treaty is not yet in force and Hungary is still an occupied enemy state. Until Russia ratifies the treaty, it is inoperative.

3. ESTABLISH THE United States' determination that the freedoms assured liberated peoples in Europe during the war are to be maintained despite the imposition of totalitarian regimes from the outside.

Meanwhile, the United States planned to stand its ground in demanding an apology from the Hungarian government, assurances against a repetition of the incident and the return of any property that may have been taken from Thuransky.

Reports to the state department on the incident gave this account:

Thuransky, after his arrest was brought to Budapest and lodged in jail. Lewis attempted to interview him Saturday at the jail. Officials gave him the run-around by being "incooperative to the extreme and in some cases inadmissibly insolent."

On one visit to the jail Lewis encountered Mrs. Thuransky and took her with him in the legation car in search of an unidentified Hungarian official.

UNABLE to find him, they returned to the jail and Lewis and the chauffeur entered. Presently they heard the screams of Mrs. Thuransky and hurried outside. Her husband lay in the legation car, his feet protruding from the door. A crowd of Hungarian civilians and police stood about.

Lewis and Mrs. Thuransky and the chauffeur hopped into the car and sped to the legation. Later the Thuransky's two daughters were taken from their home and lodged also in the legation.

Thuransky and his family are reported to be returning to the United States.

ASHVILLE

White candelabra, in a setting of ferns with a center piece of white snapdragons and gladioli, decorated the improvised altar in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald P. Courtright for the wedding of their daughter, Charlotte Anne, to Harry A. Rife, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Rife, Columbus, Ohio. The Rev. Carl Wetherell officiated at the ceremony which took place at 8:30 in the evening, July 31, 1947.

The bride, who wore a street dress of powder blue crepe and navy accessories with a shoulder corsage of white roses, was escorted to the altar by her father to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March.

Mrs. Gervaise Peters, Delaware, Ohio, served as matron of honor for her sister. She wore a dress of pink crepe with a shoulder corsage of yellow roses and blue delphinium.

Mr. Donald Duvall, Ashville, Ohio, served as best man. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Ruth Courtright, sister of the bride, presented the following piano selections: "O, Promise Me," "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and "I Love You Truly."

Immediately following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held for approximately 50 guests.

The bride is a graduate of Ashville high school and Ohio University and for the last two years has been teaching in the high school at South Charleston. Mr. Rife is also a graduate of Ashville high school and is now associated with the Dobson Evans Co., Columbus.

After a short wedding trip through Michigan and Canada, they will live in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trone, Jr. spent the week-end at Indian Lake.

John Courtright, Marion, who was injured in London, England

a few weeks ago, returned to his home Friday.

Roger Harris is visiting with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Watkins, and attending the county fair at Richwood.

Miss Helen Irwin spent Monday night with the Misses Faye Miller and Minerva Wiessinger in Columbus.

Rev. H. D. Fudge, Mary and Dick have returned from a fishing trip in Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lindsey of Columbus visited with Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Morrison Tuesday.

Robert Bartholomew, formerly employed at the Pure Oil station, is now working for Will W. Fischer and son.

Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Cromley, Lon and Bill, have returned from a vacation trip in Michigan.

$40,000 FIRE RAGES IN LOUIS FAGEOL MANSION

AKRON, O., Aug. 6—A $40,000 fire was brought under control early today in the Louis J. Fageol mansion at nearby Silver Lake.

Five fire departments battled the blaze which broke out late last night. Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Cuyahoga Falls firemen reported the second floor of the $150,000 mansion was ruined and heavy damage to furnishings on the first floor was caused by smoke and water.

The fire was discovered by a passer-by who called Silver Lake firemen. The family had been out of the house several hours.

Pageol is an official of the Twin Coach Co. at nearby Kent.

Council Again Hears From Citizens About Fire Alarm System

One Circleville fire alarm box was not cleaned for so long that it contained spider and cobwebs.

This declaration was made to the city council Tuesday night by Wilson R. "Pete" Clark, head of the citizens committee which waged a campaign recently for restoration of the alarm system after it had been ordered abandoned by the council.

CLARK AROSE among the spectators and, after reminding the council that at its July 15 meeting the members rescinded their May 20 action and voted to expend up to $2,500 to repair and re-install the 25-box alarm system, asked when the work is to be done.

City Solicitor George Gerhardt said that it was necessary to advertise for competitive bids on the work because the cost would exceed $500 and that the advertising of bids is required by state law.

Mr. Clark then wished to know why the work had not been given to James P. Moffitt and Leonard S. Lytle, local electricians who had cooperated with the citizens' committee. The city solicitor said they were entitled to enter their bids. It was disclosed that no bids had as yet been received and that the opening of bids has been scheduled for Saturday.

Councilman George L. Crites arose and, reiterating his frequently repeated arguments against fire alarm systems, told the council: "After the alarm boxes are re-installed you had better hunt for a telephone in case your house catches fire."

CLARK THEN said: "Box No. 16 had not been cleaned for so long that it had spider and cobwebs in it." Box No. 16 is located at Court and York streets.

The alarm boxes should be cleaned and inspected Mr. Clark asserted, regularly, and should be kept in constant working condition.

Fire Chief Talmer Wise insisted that his department had regularly examined the boxes.

Councilman Boyd L. Horn offered a motion that the re-installed boxes be inspected and cleaned once each month. However, John C. Goeller, council president, ruled that the motion was out of order.

CONTOUR PLANTING

TRAVELERS through hilly farm districts sometimes wonder at the sight of what appears to be a curving design in vegetation. Around the hill is a strip of corn or other grain, alternating with a strip of alfalfa or similar grass crop.

These farmers are following an approved method of erosion control which has proved effective in stopping loss of topsoil. The rainfall which runs down the corn rows is stopped and held by the grassy strips, and the valuable top-soil stays where it is. Heavy rains, long called "gully-washers", are utilized and their moisture held. No gullies are washed, and the farmer is happy.

This practical and inexpensive form of flood control is sponsored by the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, which has been teaching farmers many ways of making friends with the elements. The man dependent for his livelihood on the forces of nature must learn to go along with them. By adapting himself to their laws he turns the forces to use instead of letting them contribute to destruction.

The neat, straight furrows of our forefathers are viewed with distress and apprehension by farmers who have learned the constructive way of following natural contours of land, doing the planting around hills in curving, horizontal rows which hold the water and the soil instead of in the vertical rows which let the rain wash the soil away. Loss of topsoil by flood and erosion is one of the most serious dangers now confronting the nation. It needs to be taken seriously, now, before it is too late.

LANGUAGES

THE AMERICAN people in general have long been disposed to ignore foreign languages, regarding their own as adequate for all purposes. It has been the case usually even among immigrants to this country, who were inclined to regard using their own language as rather unpatriotic. Their children usually refused to use it. As a result of such a trend, interest in and knowledge of foreign languages faded accordingly.

In recent years, however, intelligent people have begun to hold European languages in more respect, and students and business men have begun to appreciate their loss. This tendency naturally grows with the spread of world travel and business. The two great languages, French and English, may still be leading the world for many decades. But young people who have the opportunity to learn German and Russian should by all means do so. One reason why it is so hard to understand the Russians, for example, is that we never know what they are talking about. The more we know about how the people think, reads, talks, the better able we are to know what they are up to. Languages are needed for business, for friendship and for peace.

ASSIGNMENT: AMERICA

By Kenneth L. Dixon
Distributed by International News Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—Two years ago today, one lone B-29 swept in silvered solitude through Japanese skies until at last it neared a little-known city—but a city doomed to become as famous a date in history as Gettysburg or Pearl Harbor.

So high that even with powerful field glasses it looked like a slim cigar to groundlings down below, the plane slipped in over the city's heart. Suddenly a rent slit its silver belly, and out of that yawning gap a tiny pellet popped.

Drifting slowly downward, the shiny pellet seemed almost to hang suspended in the sky. Then, as the mighty messenger which brought it wheeled sharply and headed homeward with all four engines thundering at full throttle, a minute mechanism within the falling missile began to tick away the last seconds of the lives of countless thousands down below.

What happened after that, as the fleeing airmen looked back almost as fearfully as Lot's wife, is grim and undeniable history.

For two years ago today was Hiroshima. Eight days after that first atom bomb was dropped, destroying an entire city, the war ended. But even the frantic, almost hysterical, wave of celebration which swept the world carried whitecaps of warning, and even the racketing revelry failed to drown out the undertones of fear and foreboding.

For, by that long-considered act which ended the war, the world in general and America in particular—for the time being—was charged with the stewardship of a scientific monstrosity capable of destroying all mankind.

How well have we worn that mantle of responsibility since? The record is not reassuring. The last two years contain only nine events of minor importance concerning the atom. They are:

Nov. 15, 1945—Declaration of control of atomic energy issued by President Truman, British Prime Minister Attlee and Canadian Prime Minister MacKenzie King.

Jan. 24, 1946—General assembly of the United Nations created the United Nations atomic energy commission.

March 28, 1946—State department released first draft on atomic control—the Acheson-Lilienthal report.

June 14, 1946—First meeting of the United Nations atomic energy commission held. Bernard Baruch presented the American proposals for world control of atomic energy.

July 1 and July 25, 1946—Atom bomb tests held at Bikini. (And whether these slowed or sped the day of humanity's destruction still remains to be seen.)

July 27, 1946—America's domestic atomic energy act became law. (And several houses were stolen before this barn was locked.)

Oct. 2, 1946—United Nations atomic energy commission agreed unanimously that world control was technically, feasible. (But mark that word "technically"—for the veto moth still flirts with the atom flame.)

Nov. 1, 1946—United States atomic energy commission appointments announced.

April 9, 1947—United States atomic energy commission appointments confirmed.

The obvious lapse of five months between those last two dates is perhaps the most damning proof of how America has refused to recognize and accept its responsibility. Despite the grim issues involved, congress

DIET AND HEALTH

Many Different Factors Are Responsible for Over-Eating

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
HOW I wish I could convince every man and woman in this country that overweight shortens life! If I could, I could thereby save thousands from an untimely death and not only that, they would have beauty, grace, activity and zest such as they have never known before.

Believe it or not, this is one of the things about which all medical authorities agree. There is not a dissenting voice. Figures, too, are eloquent in telling the story. They show without any possibility of contradiction that too much fat, larding the body and internal organs, may be responsible for the earlier development of heart, blood vessel and kidney disease, diabetes and even cancer.

Believe it or not, this is one of the things about which all medical authorities agree. There is not a dissenting voice. Figures, too, are eloquent in telling the story. They show without any possibility of contradiction that too much fat, larding the body and internal organs, may be responsible for the earlier development of heart, blood vessel and kidney disease, diabetes and even cancer.

Thus, the sooner we realize that overweight in most cases is the result of eating more food than is used up by bodily activity, the sooner we will be able to do something about reducing safely and healthfully. Just the same, it is well to realize that though glandular disturbances are seldom responsible for our overweight, certain mental factors are, because they influence us to eat too much. Once we understand what they are, we have a better chance to control them.

Desire for Food
Strangely enough, anything which increases the emotions of sorrow or anxiety or the nervous reactions of being on edge or irritable will further the desire for food. For example, Dr. S. Charles Freed of San Francisco, California, questioned 500 patients who were under treatment for overweight. He asked them, "When you are nervous or worried do you eat more or less?" Three hundred and seventy answered that they either ate larger meals or ate more frequently. Most of the remainder answered that they did not eat more when worried or nervous but they did eat more when they were idle, bored or tired. There are a number of factors, then, which influence overeating.

The child who is brought up in a family where it is common to have large, rich meals will imitate those around him and eat an excessive amount of food.

When there is a lack of interest or distractions, a person may try to escape from his monotonous life by overeating.

Temptation to Eat
Persons employed in restaurants, candy shops and food stores are constantly influenced to eat by the mere presence of the food.

Persons confined to bed may continue with their usual food habits and thus take more food than they require.

Thus, in the treatment of overweight it is important that all of these various factors be given consideration. An attempt must be made to rid a person of his anxieties and emotional stress. Nevertheless, dieting remains the most important part of the reducing program.

Dr. Freed recommends a diet of from 800 to 1100 calories. Of course, the diet should be well-balanced supplying all of the necessary food parts. I have outlined such a diet which I will be glad to send free to all those who desire it if they will send a large self-addressed envelope, stamped with 6c postage. Names will not be used.

In order to suppress the appetite a drug known as amphetamine sulfate may be used but, of course, only under the direction of a physician.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
R. M.: I have a boy five years of age. He gets colds frequently. He breathes heavy and has difficulty getting his breath. Do you think he has bronchitis?

Answer: No. The symptoms which you describe are much like those of asthma, a condition in which there are attacks of noisy breathing, shortness of breath, and coughing.

It is important that the child be examined by a physician to determine if the symptoms are due to asthma so that treatment for it can be started.

Circleville residents put on their suit coats and sweaters when the temperature dropped to 52 degrees today.

TEN YEARS AGO
Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Stewart returned to their home on West Mound street, after spending a month at Bayview, Michigan.

Benton Strange Bureaucrat; Three-Too Edge for Labor
Welcomes Probe of Division In New NLRB, Say Senators

Special to Central Press
WASHINGTON—William Benton, who has taken considerable of a beating as assistant secretary of state at the hands of Congress, considers himself something of a rare bird among Washington's bureaucrats—and others. He is independently wealthy and young enough to enjoy the battle for what he believes right.

Consequently, he chuckled when Congress proposed a $100,000 probe into the activities of his division, including the controversial "Voice of America" overseas broadcasts.

Benton would prefer that the money be spent on propaganda to the peoples behind the Russian "iron curtain." However, he feels so sure of the record of his office that he believes that, by a thorough study, the American people and Congress will be made aware of the essential importance of the work he is doing.

Benton feels that he is probably the only bureaucrat who welcomes a probe of this sort. Also, probably unconsciously, the investigation has eliminated the possibility of Benton's resignation. He wouldn't resign under fire, and Secretary of State George C. Marshall probably would not ask him to.

WEIGHTED?—Some senators see the new National Labor Relations Board as being weighted 3-to-2 in favor of labor. That was the reason for some opposition to former Democratic Senator Abe Murdock's appointment as a member of the five-man board.

These senators figured that Murdock, who had a pro-labor record in Congress, along with NLRB Chairman Paul Herzog and NLRB member John Houston, would see eye-to-eye and write the board's majority decisions.

In the minority, in such an event, would be James Reynolds and J. Copeland Gray, both former corporation officials. Murdock and Gray were named to the board under the Taft-Hartley statute which vastly expanded the NLRB's duties.

● RISING STAR?—The star of Justice Department Attorney William A. Paisley, 51, is rising in the Justice department. To careful observers, it is just now downright luminous.

Paisley, it will be remembered, arose from comparative obscurity to win the conviction of former Rep. Andrew May (D), Kentucky, and the Garson brothers, owners of the peanuts-to-palace munitions combine, on charges of war fraud conspiracy. He then placed behind bars Boston's venerable, but not venerated, Mayor James M. Curley.

Attorney General Clark has named Paisley as one of two special assistants sent to Kansas City to study charges of fraud in last year's Democratic primary.

Paisley does not look like "Mr. District Attorney." He is stooped-shouldered, wears spectacles, speaks with a drawl. Instead of overwhelming witnesses with blustering questions, he pries, wheedles and cajoles them.

Watch the star! It may shine brightly over President Truman's Missouri river.

● PATS FOR TAFT?—Senator Robert A. Taft (R), Ohio, despite the numerous criticisms thrown at him as the actual, if not titular, leader of the Senate Republicans, sometimes receives kind words even from his Democratic opponents. Possessing a keen legal mind in the opinion of many, he is usually quick to cite fine differences of phraseology.

This talent came to the fore one day recently when the Army-Navy unification bill came to the floor. The sympathetic armed services committee, which had labored over the bill for months, failed to spot a detail which would have given these services a strong voice in developing foreign policy. Taft even took the position that it might give them a voice on domestic policy.

Taft proposed an amendment which was unanimously adopted by the Senate. It provided that the armed services might advise on foreign and domestic policies only "in so far as they affect security."

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE
LADY ANGKATELL dropped into a chair and smiled at the two men. She said conversationally: "You know, I really do think that was very charming of Gudgeon. Quite feudal, if you know what I mean. Yes, feudal is the right word."

Grange said stiffly: "Am I to understand, Lady Angkatell, that you yourself have some further knowledge about the matter of the gun?"

"Of course. Gudgeon didn't find it in the hall at all. He found it when he took the eggs out."

"The eggs?" Inspector Grange stared at her.

"Out of the basket," said Lady Angkatell.

She seemed to think that everything was now quite clear. Sir Henry said gently: "You must tell us a little more, my dear. Inspector Grange and I are still at sea."

"Oh!" Lady Grange set herself to be explicit. "The pistol you see was in the basket, under the eggs."

"What basket and what eggs, Lady Angkatell?"

"The basket I took down to the farm. The pistol was in it, and then I put the eggs in on top of the pistol and forgot all about it. And when we found poor John Christow dead by the pool, it was such a shock I let go of the basket and Gudgeon just caught it in time (because of the eggs, I mean. If I'd dropped it they would have been broken), and he brought it back to the house. And later I asked him about writing the date on the eggs—a thing I always do—otherwise one eats the fresher eggs sometimes before the older ones—and he said all that had been attended to—and now that I remember, he was rather emphatic about it. And that is what I mean by being feudal. He found the pistol and put it back in here—I suppose really because there were police in the house. Servants are always so worried by police, I find. Very nice and loyal—but also quite stupid, because, of course, Inspector, it's the truth you want to hear, isn't it?"

And Lady Angkatell finished up by giving the Inspector a beaming smile.

"The truth is what I mean to get," said Grange rather grimly.

Lady Angkatell sighed.

"It all seems such a fuss, doesn't it?" she said. "I mean, all this bounding people down. I don't suppose whoever it was that shot John Christow really meant to shoot him—not seriously, I mean. If it was Gerda, I'm sure she didn't. In fact, I'm really surprised that she didn't miss—it's the sort of thing that one would expect of Gerda. And she's a really very nice, kind creature. And if you go and put her in prison and hang her, what on earth is going to happen to the children? If she did shoot John, she's probably dreadfully sorry about it now. It's bad enough for children to have a father who's been murdered—but it will make it infinitely worse for them to have their mother hanged for it. Sometimes I don't think that policemen think of these things."

"We are not contemplating arresting anyone at present, Lady Angkatell."

"Well, that's sensible at any rate. But I have thought all along, Inspector Grange, that you were a very sensible sort of man."

A birthday anniversary today means that you have good judgment, are quick-witted, capable and observing, and always appear at your best. You have an artistic temperament, are neat and rather fastidious. You are an amusing and clever entertainer, and popular among your friends. You are not demonstrative in your love, but your home life is ideal. Influences ripe today are adverse for you. Avoid taking risks of any kind. Don't use force or allow yourself to be forced. Losses are indicated, damage, breakages and turmoil. Clashes are likely. In your next year refuse to take unnecessary risks, as accidents threaten you. Be especially cautious when near fire, explosives and machinery. A modicum of business success is foreseen. The child who is born today will be moderately lucky in business, but will be likely to have accidents. Successful travel, especially on the sea, is indicated.

Zwicker Grove Setting Meeting And Picnic

First EUB Church Annual Picnic Sunday

Annual Sunday school and church picnic in conjunction with a meeting of the Harper Bible class of the First Evangelical United Brethren church will be held Sunday in the Zwicker Grove at the corporation limit on State highway number 188. All are asked to meet at the church at 9:15 a. m. for a check of the Sunday school enrollment and a period of morning devotion.

At 9:30 a. m. an auto caravan will leave the church with transportation provided for all. At 10 a. m. the pastor, the Rev. Carl L. Wilson, will conduct the regular morning worship in the grove.

The slated program will be followed with special music by the choir and a junior church lesson presentation. During the noon hour a picnic basket dinner will be served. Each family is asked to bring a picnic basket and individual table service. Children of the primary department and junior departments need not bring food, as the committee will provide dinner for this age group. Beverages will be furnished for all persons.

Out of door activities and a special program of recreation is slated for the afternoon, which is being arranged by appointed committee members. A special invitation has been extended to all members of the church and Sunday school to attend the day's outing.

Nu Phi Mu Sorority Meets, Plan Rummage Sale For August

Nu Phi Mu sorority members gathered Tuesday evening in the home of Miss Barbara Green, North Court street, for their regular bi-monthly meeting.

Mrs. Harold Dresbach, assistant advisor, served in the absence of Mrs. C. E. Wells, advisor, who presided for the session. Meeting opened with a prayer, followed by the ritual and salute to the flag led by Miss Sue Reichelderfer, president. Miss Donna Reid, recording secretary, conducted roll call and read the minutes of the previous meeting. The president heard reports from various standing committee chairmen.

Plans were made for a rummage sale on August 23. Group discussed various projects for the early fall season. Miss Ruth Cunningham explained the main activities of the service committee.

Miss Green served refreshments during an informal social hour. Group adjourned following the closing ritual service.

More than 2,000,000 persons have registered at the summit house atop of Pike's Peak, Colorado. They have made the ascent during summer seasons on foot, by burro, in automobiles and by cog-road train.

Census figures reveal that more women marry at the age of 23 than any other age. A greater number of men marry at 26 or 27.

Out Of Town Guests At Dinner Party In Pickaway Arms

Mrs. Robert D. Bastow, New York, New York, and Miss Gladys Smith, Winter Park, Florida, were guests of honor Tuesday evening, at a dinner party given by Mrs. George L. Crites, South Court street, and Miss Elizabeth Dunlap, West Franklin street.

Lavender and deep purple butterfly sprays were interspersed with pastel shades of sweet peas in a crystal bowl for a low floral arrangement in the center of the diningroom table.

Places were marked for the seven o'clock dinner at one long table in the Pickaway Arms for the two guests of honor, Mrs. Paul E. Adkins, Braeburn Farm, Jackson township, Mrs. Max Friedman, Columbus and Miss Elynn Duffy, Cleveland.

Those from Circleville were Mrs. Joseph P. Noecker, Mrs. George VanCamp, Mrs. Howard Orr, Mrs. James I. Smith, Mrs. Emmitt L. Crist, Mrs. L. K. Athey, Mrs. Carl J. Schneider and the two hostesses.

Following dinner the guests had an informal evening in the Crites residence.

Doll Contest And Pony Rides At Brown Lawn Party

Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Brown, Circleville township, were hosts at a lawn party for their daughter, Brenda Brown, when she entertained a group of her little friends.

Mrs. Roy Huffer assisted Mrs. Brown in entertaining the small guests, who were invited to bring their dolls. There were 20 dolls at the party. In a contest the group decided that May Martin had the most attractive doll and Brenda's "Rag Anna" was the plainest.

Girls spent the afternoon playing with their dolls and taking rides on Fred Brown's pony "Pam". Refreshments were served on the lawn, followed by bubble gum.

Those at the gay affair were Carolyn Jo and Susie Metcalf, May Martin, Sonja Robinson, Carolyn and Margaret Huffer and Mary Ellen Goeller, Roy Huffer, Dr. J. E. Goeller, Mrs. Goeller, Judy and Joe Goeller and Miss Marjory Westerbarger.

GRANGE PLANS AUGUST PICNIC

Saltcreek Valley grange met in regular session Tuesday evening in the school building with Robert Delong, master, in the chair. Group made plans for a picnic supper in Gold Cliff park on August 22 at 6 p. m. A note of appreciation was read from Mrs. Frank Strous and an appeal for aid.

Charter was draped during the evening in memory of the late Frank Strous. Judson Beougher, Jeannette Armstrong and Phyllis Anderson were appointed to prepare a resolution of respect for the deceased brother.

Mrs. Isaac Sells, Mrs. Lloyd Whisler, Joanne Bowsher, Wayne Cryder and Maurice Wayne were selected to be in charge of the program for the next meeting. Serving on the refreshment committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Judson Beougher, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hedges, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Armstrong.

Floral decorations at the meeting were furnished by Mrs. Grace Anderson, Mrs. Mary Wolfe and Mrs. Donna Beougher.

Evening's program consisted of a reading "What is Your Life Worth" by Grace Anderson; piano solo "Memory" by Joanne Bowsher; reading "Araminta Becomes a Radio Fan" by Miss Anna Pontius, Mrs. Alma Miller gave a group of riddles and Mrs. B. D. Pierce read "The Fairest Gift." Mrs. Florence Shride and Miss Gift Macklin presented a piano duet. Robert Delong read "The Good Old Days".

Mrs. Irene Flesher, Cincinnati, who is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. Isaac Sells was a guest. Refreshments were served at the close of the program by the August committee members.

Youth Fellowship Holds Meeting And Plans Hay Ride

Youth fellowship members of the Calvary Evangelical church held their monthly business meeting at the church, which opened with the group singing "Hail Him, Hail Him", and "In the Garden".

Grant Carothers read from the Scriptures as each member offered a short prayer. During the business session the group made plans for a hay ride on August 15. Refreshments were served by Doris Hill and Norma Coffland.

Those present for the evening were Doris Hill, Lorraine Pritchard, Betty Strawser, Kath Coffland, Norma Coffland, Rachel Speakman, Edna Davis, Dale Delong, Grant Carothers, Porky Delong, Merle Swank, Joan Cain and the Rev. James A. Herbst and Mrs. Herbst.

Lanman Family Has Reunion And Picnic At Gold Cliff

Annual Lanman family reunion was held at Gold Cliff park, with 47 relatives and friends present. Picnic dinner was served at the noon hour. In the afternoon the group enjoyed swimming in the pool and informal visitation.

John Lanman, president, and Emogene Newlon, secretary-treasurer were elected to serve in their appointed offices for another year. Next year's reunion will be on the first Sunday in August, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Lanman.

Those present for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. John Lanman, Judson Lanman, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bell, Jane, John, and Junior Bell, Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Lanman, Marcella June and Johnny Lanman of the Circleville community.

Thurman Lanman, Mr. and Mrs. Mick Lanman, and son, Vicky, Pataskala; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Newlon, Emogene, Kenneth and Leroy Newlon, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Lanman, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lanman and daughter, Karen Jean and Mrs. Bell Tomlinson, Williamsport.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Rennet Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly, per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

LOCAL LOANS IN 1,236 G. I. TOTAL FOR DISTRICT

Great Majority For Homes— Few Go Into Farms Or Business Ventures

Several GI loans in Circleville and Pickaway county are included in the 1,236 loans to veterans which were approved during July it was announced Wednesday by the Cincinnati regional office of the Veterans Administration. Pickaway is one of the counties comprising the Cincinnati district. James Shea is the county's service officer for veterans.

The announcement said the GI loans okehed in July included 1,156 for homes, 34 for farms, and 46 non-realty or business loans.

It was explained that the loan guaranty division of the Cincinnati VA office, responsible for 50 central and southern Ohio counties, does not actually lend money to veterans, but "stands behind" or guarantees certain parts of loans made to veterans by private lending institutions, in accordance with VA regulations.

The Veterans Administration, Shea explained, can guarantee one-half of an approved loan on realty up to a maximum guarantee of $4,000, but the VA guarantee on non-realty loans must not exceed $2,000.

The July figure swelled to a new total of 24,609 the number of GI loans in the Cincinnati area since the inception of the law.

The appraised value of the homes, farms and businesses being purchased by veterans under the GI loan privilege amounts to $136,656,980, and the commitment of the VA in these loans totals $64,051,163.

Although repayment periods for most of the loans extend over a period of years, the announcement said, many veterans have already retired obligations with the lender, in fact to date 895 veterans have repaid loans on property or businesses which were valued at $4,025,980.

KENTUCKIANS TAKE HOT WEATHER SERIOUSLY

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 6 — They take their hot weather seriously in neighboring Ft. Thomas, Ky.

The soaring mercury was blamed today for a shotgun duel between two brothers in which both were seriously wounded.

Police reported that Lawrence Rubia, 45, arose when unable to sleep and bumped into a chair. He slammed the chair out of his way—thereby arousing the resentment of his brother, Frank, 57. Blows followed. Both went after their shotguns, and the duel followed.

TRUMAN VISIT TO RIO FOCAL INTEREST POINT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—President Truman's expected visit to Brazil today was the focal point of interest of both continents of the Western Hemisphere.

There were repeated reports from Rio de Janeiro that the President definitely will visit Brazil next month.

These developments heightened expectancy of some official announcement shortly on presidential plans regarding the long discussed state visit to this country's important South American war ally and neighbor.

The white house, however, Tuesday night still withheld official comment.

The importance of a state visit by Mr. Truman to Brazil within the next month or six weeks was emphasized by the fact that the foreign secretaries of all the American Republics will gather at Rio Aug. 15 for important discussions bearing on the mutual defense of the Americas against any foreign aggression.

Secretary of State Marshall will be the official United States representative at the important gathering, which is on the level of the foreign secretaries of the various governments.

CARDS GET 14 HITS OFF BUMS TO WIN 8 TO 2

Yanks Stretch Lead To 14 Games By 8 To 5 Win Over Athletics

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—The pennant-ravenous St. Louis Cardinals took their fourth chunk of Dodger pie in five days yesterday.

Today, the Brooklyn 10-game margin of five days ago is but a glittering memory, and the slumping "bums" must realize they have mislaid the winning habit. Brooklyn now leads by only six games.

On August 1, the Dodgers invaded the lair of their Chicago cousins after a brilliant three-game sweep of the Cardinal series. Three days later, the once-frisky league leaders stole quietly and sorrowfully from the Windy City's rude precincts.

The Cubs not only smashed a 13-game winning streak, but likewise conquered the unpredictable Brooks in three consecutive games, the last a 6-to-0 shutout by southpaw Johnny Schmitz.

BROOKLYN put a temporary halt to downward movement by eking out a 4-to-2 ten-inning verdict at Boston. But last night although the score was the same the victors were not Johnny Sain racked up his 15th success to clasp another game off the pace-setting margin.

The Cardinals, launching their stretch drive unusually early, smashed out 14 hits, including home runs by Del Rice and Whitey Kurowski, to claw the Cubs, 8 to 2, behind Harry (The Cat) Brecheen. St. Louis has now run up five straight victories, and in the last two days has pounded Cub pitchers for 31 base hits.

In short, the Cards have bounced back. They have shaken off the allegedly demoralizing effect of their three losses to Brooklyn, and hurled another challenge at a tottering, but still confident ball club.

In another national league night game, baseball's David and Goliath sparked the New York Giants to a 5-to-2 victory over the last-place Philadelphia Phillies. Stocky Dave Koslo unbecomingly slingshot left-arm in a three-hit performance, and the Goliath of Gotham, Johnny Mize smashed home runs 33 and 34 to thunder two games ahead of Babe Ruth's 1927 record-setting pace.

THE PITTSBURG Pirates climbed further from their recently-vacated cellar by smashing four Red pitchers for 11 hits, and combining these hits with 10 walks for a 12 to 4 triumph.

The injury-riddled New York Yankees offset their ailments with a four-run spurge in the ninth to defeat the Athletics, 8 to 5, and stretch their lead in the American League to 14 full games, the season's high. Allie Reynolds got credit for his 14th win, another high in the American League.

A three-run rally in the seventh iced the game for the Cleveland Indians, and gave Lou Boudreau's men an 8-to-4 verdict over Dizzy Trout and fading Detroit Tigers.

The American League champion Boston Red Sox could not solve the slants of bespectacled Walter Masterson last night, and fell victim to the Washington Senators, 3 to 1. Dave Ferris

Richards Beat Moose 4-3 For Bracket Champs

Richards' Implements Tuesday night defeated Chillicothe Moose Club 4 to 3 to become champs of the winners brackets in the District Tournament at Portsmouth.

Going into the seventh with the score tied at 3 all Richards loaded the bases with no one out. Strawser, pitching for Chillicothe settled down and retired Gulick and Moon.

With two out and the bases loaded B. Ankrum hit a hard grounder to short. The ball was fumbled and Ankrum was safe at first. Tracey scored from third to give Richards the winning run.

Chillicothe put on their scoring spurt in the first inning. Two men went to base on walks. Denny hit a homer to score the only runs the Moose tallied.

First Richards run came in the third with a homer by Tracey. Richards scored again in the fourth and fifth to tie up the ball game.

The win gave Richards a firm hold on the District championship. There will be an 8 or 9 day lay-off while the champion of the losers bracket is determined. In the final play-off Richards will have to be beaten twice in one night to lose the championship. One win and one loss in the finals will give Richards the District Championship.

The winner of the District will play in the State Tournament starting at Springfield, August 22nd.

pitched good ball, but was clipped for two runs in the fourth and another in the fifth to secure Masterson's ninth win.

BLUES TAKE TWO FROM COLONELS 4 TO 0; 6 TO 0

Red Birds Snag Decision From St. Paul In Ninth Inning 2 To 1

By now it is obvious that the Kansas City Blues are determined to let nothing interfere with their pennant rush.

The Blues took most of the steam out of Louisville's bid to overhaul them last night with a double triumph, 4 to 0 and 6 to 2, over the second placers. The two victories, at the outset of a four-day "crucial" series between the Blues and Colonels, increased the Kansas City lead from three to five games.

As has so often been the case this season, brilliant pitching stood the Blues in good stead again last night. Marius Russo, recently shifted by the Yankee organization from Newark of the international League, tossed a five-hit shutout in the seven-inning twilight game. Young Cal McLish spaced eight hits while his mates collected 15 in the nightcap.

Jerry Witte, Toledo's shugging star, hit his eighth homer since rejoining the Mud Hens and his sixth since Saturday as the Hens defeated Minneapolis, 6 to 3, behind big Ray Shore. Dick Kimble of the Mud Hens also belted a round-tripper.

Pete Castiglione's ninth-inning single drove in the decisive tally in Indianapolis' 3-to-2 victory over Milwaukee. Royce Lint, youthful southpaw, was the winner. He allowed five hits while the veteran Buck Ross of Milwaukee was granting 12.

The Columbus Red Birds also snagged a ninth-round decision, beating St. Paul, 2 to 1, on three singles and a walk. Leroy Pfund was the loser and Wayne Mcleland the winner.

CALUMET STARTS TWO

CHICAGO, Aug. 6—Two of Calumet Farm's top colts went to the post today in the $20,000-added George Woolf memorial at Washington Park, Chicago. They were Citation, unbeaten in five starts and winner of the six-furlongs elementary stakes a week ago, and Free America, winner of two of three starts. Eleven other two-year-olds were named for the race.

Bowling

RODNEY FAVORED TODAY IN HAMBLETONIAN STAKES

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 6—The 22nd renewal of the Hambletonian Stakes was to unfold its $46,000 story on Goshen's good time track today with 13 of the nation's leading three-year-old trotters attempting to declare themselves in the on the divvy.

Horace Johnston's Rodney, unbeaten as a three-year-old after a 2:02 mile as a yearling, with Bi Shively driving, was a tentative 2-1 in the overnight odds but seemed almost ordained to hit even money or less before post time.

Other horses to go are Joe's Pride, Grand Parade, Tyson Hanover, Deanna Hanover, Patrick Hanover, American Ballad and Black Key.

POSTAL CARD RADIO SETS

Personal Radio Receivers, Transmitters Made Practical by "Printed" Circuits

By JOHN L. KENT

Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Exceedingly compact radio sets are being built as a result of research by Dr. Cleo Brunetti and scientists of the National Bureau of Standards in Washington who developed the "printed" circuit method of wiring.

Instead of wires and soldered joints ordinarily used to connect the various parts of the radio set, connections are made by silver lines printed or stenciled on an insulated base.

A radio manufacturer in New York has already turned out 5,000 four-tube radios small enough to fit a vest pocket.

Using the printed circuit, Dr. Brunetti has also developed a lip-stick-size broadcasting station. The circuit is printed on the outside glass envelope of its vacuum tube. It is only one inch long and about one quarter-inch in diameter without its microphone.

VEST-POCKET-SIZE receiver of the sub-miniature radio tunes in on broadcast stations within a 126-mile radius. It has one-inch tubes and hearing-aid batteries. Teamed together the transmitter and receiver become a personal walkie-talkie.

A person can hold the transmitter and receiver in the palm of his hand and talk to friends or business associates while walking down Main street.

In addition to making the long-held-out promise of personal radio communication practical, the new printed circuit is a boon to the repairman. Since each circuit is an exact reproduction of the master pattern and has only two dimensions, breaks in wiring are apparent merely by looking at the circuit. No longer will the repairman find it necessary to go through a "rat's nest" of wires and connections.

Experts are going this advantage one better. They hope to get the cost of these receivers and transmitters down so low that when a set needs repair, it will be discarded and a new one bought.

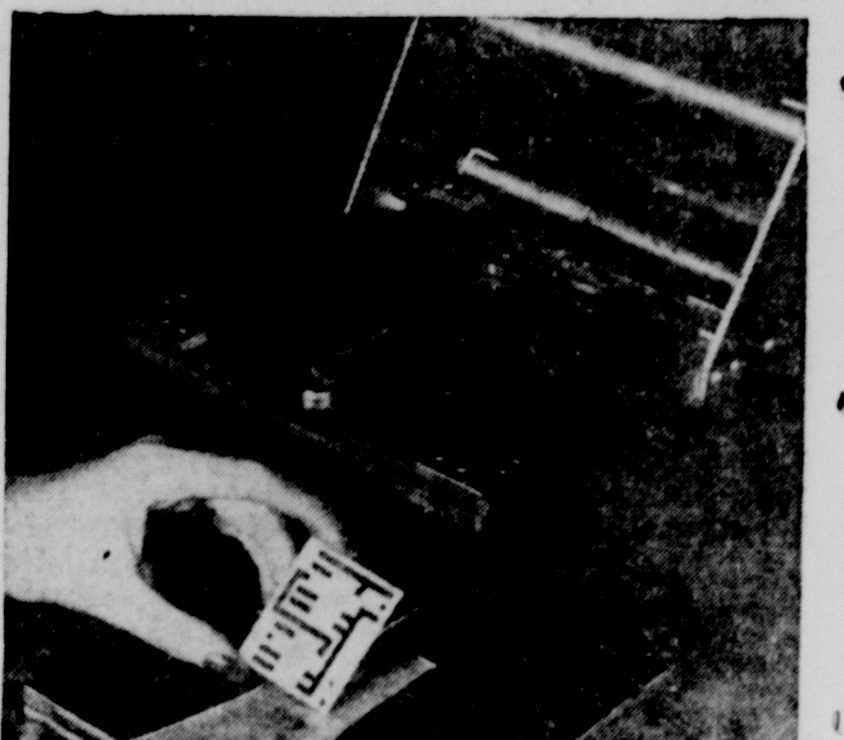

WIRING costs represent the top item in the production cost of the conventional radio set. Wires must be cut to length, bent into shape and individually soldered or connected with screws. As there are close to a hundred soldering operations in the average household set, labor and materials for soldering alone cost more than the parts making up the set.

Printed circuits are expected to eliminate about two-thirds of conventional wiring. To many production experts there appears to be no reason why portable radio sets could not be built to sell for $35 or $40 instead of the present $25 and $30.

Making a radio with the printed circuit is easy. The wiring is stenciled on a non-conducting base plate of ceramic, bakelite or other non-conductor, by a silk screen process using silver paint or ink. The imprinted base plate is heated in an oven to bind the silver to the base. The cost of the

"LIPSTICK" RADIO STATION—Dr. Brunetti holds sub-miniature radio transmitter, complete with batteries and microphone. Sub-miniature receiving set, with hearing-aid batteries and speaker, lies on table.

PRINTED CIRCUITS—The imprinted base of the sub-miniature radio receiver is removed from stencil press. Plan is to build so cheaply that, instead of undergoing repair, it may be discarded for new one.

minute quantity of silver used is lower than that of copper or other metal wire normally used.

Resistors are next printed in the same way. The resistor paint consists of a conducting material, an inert filler material and a binder. By varying the quantity of these ingredients resistance range from three ohms to 200 megohms may be obtained.

Finally, the remaining components such as capacitors and tubes are fitted into place. These are the only two types of parts requiring some wiring.

These printed circuits promise great reduction in the cost of other electrical devices such as telephones, automobile dashboard panels and other wired panels usually produced in quantity.

The New York radio maker whose initial 5,000 set production was a sell-out, is planning 50,000 more.

DEAD PATCHES IN TURF CAUSED BY CHINCH BUGS

CHINCH-BUG ON BLADE OF GRASS, GREATLY ENLARGED

Coping With the Chinch Bug

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Distributed by Central Press Association

HAS YOUR lawn developed freckles—brown spots with a yellowish circle around the outside? If so, you will probably find it is the work of the chinch bug.

The brown circle or irregular patch is composed of dead grass from which the chinch bugs have sucked the life-giving juice or sap. A typical dead area is illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. The yellowish outside area is where the bugs are still at work.

The illustration of a chinch bug on a blade of grass will help you to identify this pest. At this time of year, and again in late September, lawns may show chinch bug injury. This is when the adults of each generation of bugs have reached maturity. Both the young and adults puncture the grass stems and suck the juices.

The chinch bug has a black body and white wings. The adults vary from one-eighth to one-fifth of an inch in length. The young bugs do not have wings and may be either yellowish or reddish in color.

Since there are several broods of chinch bugs a year, efforts should be made to eradicate them. Finely ground tobacco dust can be sprinkled on the lawn as one defense against the chinch bug. If this is done, do not water the lawn for several days afterward. Use tobacco dust at the rate of 25 pounds to 1,000 square feet of lawn.

Another good control is nicotine sulphate. Use a quart to 100 gallons of water with soap added to serve as a sticking agent. This mixture can be sprayed upon the lawn.

Assignment: America

permitted a tiny handful of members to play politics for half a year while our entire atomic program stagnated.

Other countries have acted no better, although their stake (pure survival) is as great as ours. Secretly, they scurry madly to steal or match our atomic developments. Openly, they bicker over details of world control, thus stalemating it. Blindly, they overlook the fact that both pathways lead only to destruction.

And when the United Nations can't agree unanimously, it passes blithely by the atom bomb and takes up some other problem.

Thus today, two years after Hiroshima's horrors, humanity still faces the basic problem of atom bomb control much after the fashion of the two late lamented picknickers who met the grizzly bear.

"Let's just ignore it," said one, "and maybe it will go away."

"No," said the other speculatively, "let's walk different ways. Then it will only get one of us."

But the bear was too hungry to wait until they quit bickering—so he killed them both.

over CBS. In this 1947 prize-winning play by John Bergen, of Santa Monica, Calif., Collette Fernald calls for her physician and old friend, Dr. Christian, when she feels her end is near, and in lieu of cash, pays her bill with a seemingly worthless painting. After her death, her nephew and heir tries to force the Rivers End physician to sell him the picture, but Dr. Christian refuses, at first for sentimental reasons, and later because he suspects there is more to the canvas than appears on the surface. Dr. Christian is right. Upon investigation, the painting reveals a delightful

SERVICE CHIEF CITES NEED OF IMPROVEMENTS

Councilmen Consider Heavy Losses Due To Flooding In Several Areas

Implications that the flooding of yards and basements in some sections of Circleville after recent rains has been due to some extent by unclogged and clogged storm sewers were denied by City Service Director Clarence Helvering at the city council meeting Tuesday night.

During a lengthy discussion in which it was revealed that many complaints had been filed by property owners, especially on East Mound street, Pleasant street, and in other areas on the east and north sides of the city, Director Helvering said that the storm sewers "are just not big enough" to handle the flow of water after a heavy rain.

The service director insisted that all of the sewers have recently been thoroughly cleaned. He said that the service department has planned some improvements to the sewer system but that the actual work has been held up because the department has not yet been given the grades by City Engineer Harry G. Griner.

All of the council members present — Councilman William M. Reid was absent — participated in the lively discussion. It got under way when Councilman Robert E. Adkins declared that the sewers should be thoroughly cleaned at regular intervals in order to cut down losses from surplus water.

IN APPROVING the proposal Councilman Ray Cook asserted that the trunk sewers are too small to handle the situation.

"Half of the sewers in Circleville are partly filled with sand, stones, sticks — and everything else," declared Councilman Boyd L. Horn.

John C. Goeller, council president, commented that "it is up to this council and the service director to get something done about this sewer situation."

Councilman John Eshelman arose and said "I have not been able to get specific information as to what Mr. Helvering plans to do. I had hoped that either he or Mayor Gordon would discuss this situation."

At this juncture Goeller requested Safety Director Thurman I. Miller to attempt to locate the service director or mayor. Director Miller left the council chamber. He returned, accompanied by Director Helvering and Mayor Gordon.

Director Helvering and Mayor Gordon answered questions, relative to the storm sewers, asked by the council members and by property owners in the audience. Mayor Gordon said he believed the city should get some aid from Pickaway county in handling the matter.

Councilman Eshelman said several homes on Pleasant street suffered flooded basements after Tuesday afternoon's rain. That
